LBJ Viet Course Right, Taylor Says

Impact of Viet War Brings Inflation Threat

NEW YORK (AP) — The impact of the Viet Nam war on the American economy is growing. It hasn't reached the proportions of the Korean War, when wage and price controls were imposed, but it is very real. And it brings with it the ominous threat of inflation.

Labor and material shortages are occurring and some transportation is being taxed.

Government officials and business executives face problems that will have to be solved as the Viet Nam conflict escalates. Liaison between government and business has become an everyday affair as the administration seeks cooperation on prices, balance of payments and availability of strategic supplies.

Big orders for airplanes and helicopters are keeping the aircraft plants humming. Apparel manufacturers are having a hard time meeting government needs for uniforms. Airlines are struggling to haul vast quantities of materials and men to the war zone.

The military demands are coming on top of a booming civilian economy that has pushed factories to capacity or near capacity production. Apprehension about inflation is rising.

All forecasts of stock market and economic activity are hedged by the uncertainty of the Viet Nam situation.

The sensitive stock market has been jolted by talk of war and talk of peace. Recently a report of a peace feeler by North Viet Nam sent it into a brief tailspin.

Commenting on the market's reaction, Eldon A. Grimm, a senior partner in the big brokerage firm, Walston & Co., said: "We are in a financial foxhole — a semiwartime market."

Prudential Insurance Co. of America said stepped-up military activity in Viet Nam, prompted it to revise upward its economic forecast for 1966.

Prudential's chief economist, Dr. William V. Freund, now sees the 1966 Gross National Product—total of all goods and services — at $726 billion, up from a $714 billion prediction issued last November.

The 1965 Gross National Product was $676 billion, up 7.5 per cent from 1964.

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler said the Viet Nam escalation is pulling gold and dollars out of the United States at a $700-million-a-year clip. This outlay goes for troop costs, construction and purchase of supplies that cannot be obtained in the United States.

LBJ Hopes for Military Win

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — President Johnson, in his latest defense of administration policies in Viet Nam, has talked of eventual military victory and, perhaps pointedly, avoided all references to hopes for a peaceful solution.

Addressing the convention of the American Association of School Administrators here Wednesday night, Johnson devoted almost as many words to Viet Nam as to education.

In an obvious response to critics who claim this country's stake in Southeast Asia does not warrant war, Johnson said he came away from his Honolulu conference with leaders of South Viet Nam "convinced that we cannot raise a double standard to the world."

He said: "We cannot hold freedom less dear in Asia than in Europe or be less willing to sacrifice for men whose skin is a different color."

Adding that political and social reforms in South Viet Nam must go hand in hand with military action, Johnson asserted, "in other words, while winning a war we must get it at the defects that caused it."

At another point, he said that "unless this job is done a military victory in South Viet Nam would be no victory at all — only a brief delay until the aggressor returns to feed on the continuing misery of the people."

At no point during his discussion of Viet Nam, interrupted several times by applause, did Johnson use the word "peace." Neither did he mention any hope for a negotiated settlement.

HCL Still Popular

The cost of living has gone up but (notes Pic Larmour) that hasn't affected its popularity . . . There are so many new labor-saving devices for the kitchen these days that a man can spend all day deciding which ones he needs . . . Prosperity is that short period between deciding on a place to spend your vacation and finding out how much it costs . . . Many men know nothing when they're 40, and are 50 before they realize it . . . Nonchalance is the ability to look like an owl when you know you've acted like an ass.

Big Moscow Airliner In Crash

MOSCOW (AP) — One of the world's largest airliners, a Soviet TU114, crashed on takeoff here today, killing about a third of the 50 persons aboard, airline sources said.

There was no immediate confirmation from Soviet officials.

The Moscow manager of a western airline said he had been told the plane, a turboprop, failed to get off the ground and crashed at the end of the runway.

The airliner, with a capacity of 170 persons, was initiating a new service to the Congo Republic (Brazzaville).

20 States Ratify 25th Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The proposed 25th Amendment has passed the halfway mark to final ratification. Twenty of the required 38 states have voted approval.

The amendment would provide for the vice president to act as president if the president were incapacitated and also would allow the president to fill a vacancy in the office of vice president with the approval of Congress.

Kansas was the most recent state to ratify the proposal, doing so last week.

Humphrey Promises Aid to India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey offered India a $100-million loan today, an official U.S. source reported.

The loan is for importing urgently needed raw materials to get India's industry, now running at 50 per cent capacity in many sectors, speeded up, the source said.

The offer does not constitute a resumption of American development aid, which was halted during India's war with neighboring Pakistan in September, the informant said.

Humphrey, in India for a short visit, announced Tuesday night Pakistan would get a $50-million loan to import commodities needed to speed up its economic progress.

The question of resuming long-term U.S. aid to India apparently is being left open until Prime Minister Indira Gandhi visits Washington, probably next month, for talks with President Johnson.

The United States has stepped up shipments of food grains to famine-threatened India, but the curtailment of development aid has seriously hampered the economy, which has been faltering for years.

Mrs. Gandhi and Humphrey met in her office for talks this afternoon.

Wearing a flowing sari, Mrs. Gandhi greeted the vice president on the steps of her office in the Parliament building. Their conference was attended by her close aides, President Johnson's roving ambassador, W. Averell Harriman, and the U.S. ambassador to India, Chester Bowles.

Earlier in the day, Mrs. Gandhi told Parliament India is "deeply concerned" over the possibility that the Viet Nam conflict will escalate. She said her government would consider any proposals to settle the war.

But there was no indication Mrs. Gandhi was contemplating a peace initiative or that Humphrey would ask her for one. Humphrey, before leaving Karachi Wednesday, announced a $50-million loan for neighboring Pakistan. U.S. aid programs to both countries were suspended when they went to war over Kashmir last September, but they have been getting emergency help because of acute food shortages resulting from drought.

Apollo Poised For Unmanned Test Next Week

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The first unmanned Apollo moonship is poised for launching here next week aboard the most powerful rocket ever built by the United States, a 22-story tall Saturn IB.

The maiden flight for both the Apollo and Saturn IB is programmed to last 39 minutes, 28 seconds. But if all goes well it will be a major step toward a manned lunar landing.

If three such unmanned shots work well, three astronauts will ride into orbit on the fourth launching, hopefully late this year. During an eight to 14-day trip, they will work out techniques for the moon flight.

There will follow early next year the first test launching of the Saturn 5 rocket, the 36-story Apollo moon booster. Three men could ride the Saturn 5 into earth orbit as early as the third launching of the rocket and to the moon on the fourth or fifth — in 1968.

Fewer Meatless Days For Roman Catholics

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI decreed major changes today in the centuries-old rules of fasting and abstinence for the world's Roman Catholics.

Days of fasting during the pre-Easter Lenten season were reduced to two — Ash Wednesday and Good Friday. The obligation to abstain from meat on all Fridays remains in force but children do not have to observe it until they are 14. The present age is 7.

The Pope specified that Friday abstinence applies only to meat — not to eggs, dairy products and soups and gravies made with animal fat.

Ash Wednesday was made a day of abstinence as well as a fast day—meaning no meat can be eaten.

The Pope decreed the changes in an apostolic constitution titled "Do Penance."

The new regulations were announced in Washington Wednesday night by the apostolic delegate to the United States, Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, through the National Catholic Welfare Conference.

The Washington announcement said the Pope had issued new regulations for days of fast and abstinence "making them apply only to Ash Wednesday and Good Friday."

"The traditional law requiring Catholics to abstain from meat on Friday remains in effect," the announcement added.

"The age bracket for the law of fasting remains the same," it said, "beginning at 21 and ending with the beginning of the 60th year."

Time for Bingo $50 for Winner

Readers of the Daily and Sunday News are to be invited to play a new form of bingo beginning next week. Bingo cards are available from merchants participating in the games. A player may get a bingo card each time he or she visits one of the participating businesses. Games will be played for a 17-week period, with card colors changed each week.

The winner each week will receive $50. If there are multiple winners, the prize will be divided equally among them.

The numbers are given on "bingo bugs" found in the newspaper advertisements participating merchants place in the Daily and Sunday News.

A player simply watches for "bug" numbers that match those on his card or cards. When all 24 numbers on a card are matched, the card is a winner. The winning card must be brought or mailed to the Daily and Sunday News advertising department on or before Monday, 3 p.m. of the following week. The player's name, address and phone number must be on the card.

All bingo games begin Sunday and conclude Friday.

Bingo numbers will be drawn at random from a cage each week at the Daily and Sunday News. The numbers, appearing on the bodies of "bugs," will be placed in advertisements in the Daily and Sunday News.

Everyone except Daily and Sunday News employees and their families may play the game.

Viet Cong Hit In 4 Sectors

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. and South Korean troops pushing on with Operation White Wing 300 miles north of Saigon struck the Viet Cong in four separate sectors today and claimed 80 killed.

The Communists had their innings in Saigon.

Two Claymore mines set by terrorists shortly after noon near the headquarters of the Vietnamese joint general staff

Bad weather returned to North Viet Nam but U.S. Air Force and Navy pilots flew 27 missions Wednesday against bridges around Vinh and Dong Hoi and storage areas south of Dien Bien Phu. Spokesmen said the weather prevented assessment of damage.

The United States acted to put more juice into the civil programs emphasized by President Johnson at the Honolulu conference. Deputy U.S. Ambassador William Porter was named to boss all American aspects of the largely stalled rural pacification program.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said in a statement: "We are determined that this program for peace and progress shall be carried forward with all the energy and skill of a fully coordinated U.S. mission effort, always with full recognition that the basic task of nation building here belongs to the people of Viet Nam and their government."

On the Operation White Wing front, troops of the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division continued their cleanup of the An Lao Valley and were attacked about 7 miles southwest of Bong Son just before breaking their overnight bivouac.

Mrs. Butler, wife of a prominent Democratic-Farmer-Labor Party contributor, gave the statements to Mayor George Vavoulis at a City Council meeting and asked him to call a hearing to remove Rosen.

Mrs. Butler also produced a statement from D. R. Kothe, former deputy commissioner of public parks and recreation, saying poinsettia plants from the city's Como Conservatory were given to friends of Rosen as Christmas gifts prior to 1960.

Rosen has asked a grand jury to consider the charges.

The women were indicted by a grand jury Wednesday, but instead of the usual arrest warrant authorities issued summons "inviting" the women to appear in court Friday.

"This allows the mothers to contact an attorney and make other necessary arrangements such as getting baby sitters before appearing in court," said Scott.

He said the system conforms to recent suggestions of the American Bar Association, has been approved by the sheriff's office and will be used in similar cases in the future.

Scott said names of the defendants would not be released until they appear in court Friday.

Must Block Spread of Communism

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse forecast today that the American people soon will repudiate the war in South Viet Nam—and presidential adviser Maxwell D. Taylor retorted that would be good news to the Communists in Hanoi.

Morse, the Oregon Democrat, shot back a charge of smear, militarism and gutter debate. He said Taylor and President Johnson are misguided about the war in Southeast Asia.

The heated exchange between Morse and the former ambassador to Saigon came as Taylor outlined administration policy before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

It began with a Morse discussion of homefront opposition in France to the Indo-Chinese wars of a dozen years ago.

Then he switched to current U.S. concerns about the struggle in South Viet Nam.

It brought this exchange: Morse: We're engaged in a historic debate in this country. It isn't going to be too long before the American people as a people will repudiate this war. Taylor: That's going to be good news to Hanoi.

Morse: That's the kind of smear militarists always engage in. I don't intend to get down in the gutter with you and engage in that kind of debate.

If the people decide that this war should be stopped are you going to take the position that is weakness in a democracy? Taylor: I would take the position that the people are badly misguided.

Morse: You and the President have been misguided for a long time in this war.

That charge brought a burst of applause from spectators. Earlier Taylor warned of worldwide repercussions unless the United States shows in Viet Nam that Communist wars of subversion are "costly, dangerous, and doomed to failure."

Appearing before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in a growing debate over the Viet Nam war, the high Johnson administration adviser testified there is a simple answer to the question: "What are we doing in South Viet Nam?"

The answer is, he said, that: "For more than a decade, we have been taking sides in a cause in which we have a vital interest."

Alluding to the falling-domino theory, the former ambassador to Viet Nam said he does not exactly subscribe to it if it means that adjoining nations will fall automatically if South Viet Nam goes.

"But," he said, "I am deeply impressed by the probable worldwide effects." Communist leaders of Red China, Russia, and Hanoi, he said, have made plain their plan to back so-called "wars of liberation," which he described as actually internal subversion.

They believe, he said, that such wars are bound to succeed and spread to other vulnerable nations.

One aim of the United States in Viet Nam is to "destroy the myth of invincibility," the general said, to show that such subversion cannot win.

He declared that U.S. policy is based on the following hope: That failure of the Viet Cong to win on the ground, combined with U.S. bombing of North Viet Nam targets will cause the Hanoi regime to change its mind, "redefine its aims" and join in negotiations to better the lot of all the Vietnamese people.

But "until it becomes perfectly clear to them that we are not to be thrown off our course by anything they do," the chances that they will appear at a conference table are unfortunately slim, said Taylor, who is former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

In advance of Taylor's testimony committee chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., defended the public, televised hearings, saying he hopes they will help the administration make wise decisions about the war.

Fulbright began the day of Johnson administration testimony by noting that some critics have questioned the purpose of the hearings.

Taylor, now an adviser to President Johnson, said he agrees it is proper for Congress to examine the course of the war.

The general flatly rejected a static "holding policy" in Viet Nam.

"To button up our troops" in strictly defensive positions, he said, would sacrifice, "their unique mobility and firepower"; it would be supine, inglorious, and throw away the high aims we entertain.

Taylor — echoing President Johnson's words of last Friday — said nobody has suggested an alternative strategy that could meet U.S. interests.

"I feel our present strategy is the best that has been suggested," he said, "that it is important that we adhere to it." Johnson told an Atlantic City, N.J., audience Wednesday night that the Viet Cong's strategy of terror "will spread elsewhere if it succeeds in South Viet Nam."

"If the takeover of Viet Nam can be achieved by a highly organized Communist force employing violence against a civilian population, it can be achieved in another country at another time and with even greater cost to freedom," he said.

Taylor is on record as saying that U.S. bombing has limited the ability of North Viet Nam to infiltrate the South.

He advocated continued bombing at a "controlled, deliberate rate." He has contended that the limited warfare being carried on now is not likely to bring any military confrontation with China as many of the President's critics fear.

Nelson Offers Pollution Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first of several bills planned by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., to "revolutionize America's approach to water pollution" was introduced today.

It would direct the federal government to find completely new and more efficient ways to dispose of sewage, industrial wastes and other pollutants.

Other bills planned by Nelson would increase federal grants to cities for sewage plant construction, authorize direct grants to industries and permit tax writeoffs for building waste disposal facilities, levy a "pollution tax" on industries which continue to pollute water, strengthen enforcement powers and regulate pesticides and other chemicals.

Johnson Attends Prayer Breakfast

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today that he has found courage in private prayer in these troubled times, and sustaining strength in the prayers of others.

Johnson attended the 14th annual Presidential Prayer Breakfast that drew a turn-away crowd to a hotel ballroom. It brought out representatives of official and private life—leaders of the nation, diplomats and a large delegation from Congress.

SERVING IN THE ARMED FORCES

A Marine Writes From Viet Nam

Pfc. Charles Hawley

TREMPEALEAU, Wis. (Special) — "How are things on the farm?" asked Pfc. Charles R. Hawley of the 3rd Marine Division, Headquarters Company, Viet Nam, of Jack Bemis, Trempealeau, in a letter dated Jan. 23.

"At the time I was there, it was rough, but I wish I were there now," continued the former Kenosha lad now helping the U.S. fight the Communists. Charles, who spent two years on the Bemis farm, graduated at 17 from Healy Memorial High School, Trempealeau, last spring, and entered service in June. He was sent directly to the war front after completing boot training at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

"Viet Nam is everything they say," he said. With the security section, he's about eight miles north of Da Nang Air Base.

"ALL WE DO is squad the command post at night, and this is when the Viet Cong hit the most."

"It's been fairly quiet the last two nights, but three nights ago, things were really happening. The Viet Cong hit around 2 a.m. They were scattered out in small groups. I was on Post 9 with a fellow Marine."

"A trip flare went off in front of us. The light from it showed us three Viet Cong. I was the first to open up. I guess I was a little scared. Then the other Marine let a few bursts go."

"The first flare went out so we threw another. Two Viet Cong had been hit and the third was crawling away. He was too close to the ground to hit, so we went out after him."

"In front of us was a rice paddy and a small clump of bamboo. Fred, my partner, came in from the rear and stood about 50 yards in front of the trees."

Fred spotted the enemy first but couldn't get a shot. He came running toward me, but the Viet Cong shot first. I took a round in my right leg just above the knee, but soon after that he hit the mud.

"I GUESS I'll never forget that experience. It gets rough here at times. I received the Purple Heart, spent a week in the hospital, and was sent right back out again."

Charles asked about the farm, wanted to know if Jack got his deer last fall, sent greetings to everyone, was interested in how Trempealeau High is doing in sports, and closed on this note: "One thing I have to complain about here—it's the chow. What I wouldn't do for a box of cookies!"

A.I.C. RICHARD R. WEILANDT, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roman Weilandt, 567 E. 2nd St., was promoted to staff sergeant recently after completing noncommissioned officers school at Offutt Air Force Base, Omaha, Neb. His address is: 3747 36th Ave., N., Omaha.

ANOTHER MESSAGE ABOUT

MEDICARE

FROM MINNESOTA BLUE CROSS!

If you are over 65...or have parents who are, the following facts are vitally important to you!

The Medicare Law provides certain benefits for health expense protection to most persons over 65. However, it is important to bear in mind that if you are not now receiving a pension check from either the Social Security Administration or the Railroad Retirement Board, your enrollment in Part A of Medicare (hospitalization) is not automatic. You must file with the Social Security Administration. All persons age 65 or older must apply for Part B (physician's services) of Medicare, before March 31, 1966. We recommend that you apply for this coverage.

Generally, these are the benefits for which you are eligible under PART A of MEDICARE:

A. Part A of Medicare provides benefits for hospital care. It provides up to 60 days of care per illness, with the patient paying the first $40... plus 30 additional days of care, with a $10 per day deductible paid also by the patient. Part A provides other in-hospital and out-patient diagnostic benefits — some of which involve co-insurance, deductibles and other limitations.

Generally, these are the benefits for which you are eligible under PART B of MEDICARE:

B. Part B of Medicare is the voluntary, medical, surgical (physician's care) part of Medicare. After a $50, calendar year deductible, it provides 80% of charges for physician's services and other medical items not provided by Part A of Medicare. This protection costs you just $3.00 a month, with the Government paying a matching share.

YOU WILL WANT TO CONSIDER THE ADDITIONAL PROTECTION OF MINNESOTA BLUE CROSS-MIL

Since both Part A and Part B of Medicare leave gaps, you no doubt will want to supplement your personal health program. Blue Cross and Mil will soon be announcing details, procedures and rates of their programs to supplement Medicare benefits. These programs will provide you with the complete protection you will want to have to meet the cost of hospital, medical expenses.

Watch for the announcement!

Comic Books Locked Away From Children

WASHINGTON (AP) — Batman, Superman and other heroes of the golden age of comic books are being kept behind locked doors in the Library of Congress.

But, as Batman's sidekick Robin would put it, Holy Theosis! They're off limits to the kids and are for scholarly research only in the senate library where the "quiet" signs mean no laughing as well as no talking.

Unless you're a sociologist, a reporter or a graduate student writing a dissertation, you can't get near the library's 12,000 or so comic books.

The comics, dating from the late 1930s to the present, are kept in gray boxes on dusty shelves in two locked corridors of the library's stacks. The collection includes about 2,500 titles and may be the world's largest.

"We don't know of any other library that collects them," says John H. Thaxter, assistant chief of the library's serial division.

They are still coming in — 136 different titles at present — under copyright laws that require that the library receive two copies of every copyright periodical published.

"We're giving serious thought to microfilming some of the earlier editions," Thaxter said.

Immunizations Set At Durand School

DURAND, Wis. — The second series of immunization clinics will be Monday in the Durand High School gym and March 2 at Pepin school.

Diphtheria, whooping cough and smallpox series and boosters, diphtheria and tetanus boosters and smallpox immunization will be offered pre-school as well as school children who were absent or neglected to sign for the first clinic.

Permission blanks are available at the nurse's office and must be signed by the parent. If children are registered previously, no more signature is necessary.

The clinics will run from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Pre-school children should be brought in by 9. Parents were encouraged to have their children take advantage of the immunization program unless they have had protection in the physician's office. The immunization fee for each injection is to be paid to the registrar at each clinic. Children whose parents aren't able to pay for the injections won't be deprived.

Fatality Driver Doesn't Take Stand in Case

The defense presented its case through the driver of the only other vehicle present at a fatal accident last summer and through the mother of the defendant Wednesday afternoon in District Court.

Mrs. Brehmer testified that her son has no recollection of the night of the accident. He did not testify.

JUDGE Arnold Hatfield promised a decision next week on whether Richard H. Brehmer, 21, Plainview, Minn., was criminally negligent while behind the wheel of a car which collided with a semi-tractor the night of Sept. 3 at 3rd and Carmona streets.

Karen Lee Thilman, 17, a passenger in Brehmer's car, died at the accident scene of injuries received in the mishap.

Defense Attorney Daniel F. Foley, Wabasha, Minn., called Lambert Dzwonkowski, 467 Mankato Ave., as his first witness. Dzwonkowski had testified for the state at Brehmer's preliminary hearing Sept. 24 in municipal court.

The defense witness said that he had worked until 10 p.m. the night of the accident at the motorcycle shop (576 E. 4th St.) where he is employed. On his way home, Dzwonkowski drove north on Carmona Street to 3rd Street, he testified.

HE COULD SEE in all directions, Dzwonkowski said, and he saw the semi-tractor stopped for the stop sign across 3rd Street from him, signalling a left turn. He himself intended to turn right in order to go east on 3rd Street.

Dzwonkowski said that, as he made his turn, he saw a car approaching from the east about 300 feet away. The truck was standing still, the last he saw of it, Dzwonkowski said.

The car approaching from the east passed him when he had gotten about 50 feet from Carmona Street, Dzwonkowski testified. He told the court that he could not estimate how much time passed before he heard the collision or how fast Brehmer was going as the defendant approached him.

There is a street light over the intersection at 3rd and Carmona streets, Dzwonkowski confirmed.

ON CROSS-examination by County Attorney S. A. Sawyer, Dzwonkowski said that he did not know when the truck might have started out into the street. "How would you describe the speed of (Brehmer's) car in general terms?" Sawyer asked. "Fast," Dzwonkowski answered.

Mrs. Henry Brehmer, Plainview, took the stand to testify that she is the mother of the defendant and that her son had lived at home since being arraigned on the criminal negligence charge.

She had often attempted to question her son about the night of the accident, Mrs. Brehmer told Foley; but her son always answers that he does not remember what happened that night.

She is sure he is telling the literal truth, Mrs. Brehmer said.

AFTER conferring with Judge Hatfield, County Attorney Sawyer said that he would waive the state's right to make a closing argument. Defense Attorney Foley said that he would like to submit his argument in written form.

Judge Hatfield set Monday as the deadline for Foley's written brief to be filed, and he promised a decision in the case sometime next week.

Maximum penalty on conviction of criminal negligence is a five-year prison sentence, a $5,000 fine or both. Brehmer is free on $1,000 bond.

MONDOVI FARM CLASS
MONDOVI, Wis. (Special) — "New Trends in Crop Fertilization" will be discussed at the adult farmer class in the ag room at Mondovi High School Tuesday at 8:30 p.m.

Slightly Moderating Temperatures Predicted

A cold wave which sent the Winona thermometer down to 8 below today will be a little less severe tonight, the weatherman said. He predicts some cloudiness with occasional light snow by late tonight and Friday.

A low of 5 below to 5 above is seen for tonight and a high Friday of 20-25.

DESPITE the return of the below zero weather and an abrupt end to surface runoff in Southeastern Minnesota and Western Wisconsin tributary streams, the Mississippi River at Winona continues high for February.

The stage here today was 9.5, down .2 of a foot from Wednesday. The Weather Bureau predicted the following stages for the next several days:

Friday 9.2
Saturday 9.0
Sunday 8.8

Area tributary streams were rapidly falling to winter normals with the Chippewa River at Durand 6.2 today, down .4 from Wednesday. The Black River at Galesville was 8.2, down .2 of a foot and the Root at Houston 6.1, down .7 from Wednesday.

A continued falling tendency is expected over the next several days.

BELOW normal temperatures with little or no precipitation is the outlook for Saturday. The overnight temperature drop was from a Wednesday afternoon high of 14. At noon today the reading was 11.

A year ago today the Winona high was 28 and the low -15. All-time high for Feb. 17 was 52 in 1948 and the low for the day -18 in 1903. Mean for the past 24 hours was 3. Normal for this time of the year is 20.

The temperature dropped to 34 below at Roseau and -31 at International Falls overnight. It was -23 at Bemidji and -20 at Brainerd. Duluth recorded -17 and St. Cloud -13.

At Rochester this morning low was -12 after a Wednesday high of 16. La Crosse posted figures of -5 and 33 for the same times. Fargo, N.D. had clear weather and a low of -23 but Edmonton and Regina, Canada, from where much of Minnesota's weather comes, had -32 and snow.

Minnesota highways, with some snow-packed stretches, generally were in good winter driving condition, the state highway department reported today.

All main roads in WISCONSIN were clear and in good winter traveling condition today, the State Highway Department reported.

Lesser traveled roads in an area north and west of a line from La Crosse through Tomah to Ashland had scattered slippery spots, the department added. This resulted from drifting snow.

Wisconsin weather today was right back where it was in mid-January. Sub-zero temperatures covered most of the state in the early morning hours and indications were the Arctic air would remain for the weekend.

Superior had a low of 18 below zero early today. Park Falls reported -16. Eau Claire -14, Wausau -12, Lone Rock -2, Madison and Green Bay -1, Milwaukee, Racine and Burlington 2 above zero and Beloit 4 above.

Green Bay topped the state Tuesday with a high of 31. Madison, Wausau and Racine reached 27, Milwaukee and Beloit 23, Lone Rock 23, Park Falls 10, Eau Claire 9 and Superior 6.

Some scattered light snow flurries fell in most of Wisconsin Tuesday but skies cleared during the night.

COLDEST place in the country early today was Roseau, Minn., with 34 below zero. Clewiston, Orlando and Jacksonville, Fla., had the national high of 85 Tuesday.

St. Charles Chamber Supports NW Railway Against Union Pacific

ST. CHARLES, Minn. (Special) — The St. Charles Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution Tuesday night supporting the efforts of the Chicago & North Western Railway System to block a merger between the Rock Island and Union Pacific roads.

The chamber is in favor of effecting a merger between the North Western and Rock Island. The North Western services St. Charles on a line extending westerly from Winona.

A FILM, "The Great Train Robberies of the 1960s" was shown, illustrating the projected merger of the two larger roads and comparing it with a merger in which the North Western would join the Rock Island to serve the mid-continent and maintain service to the smaller communities.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to the Interstate Commerce Commission and to Congress.

Hearings on the proposed mergers will begin March 7 before the ICC.

A new businessman, Gerald Graf, operating the IGA store formerly the Schaber IGA, was introduced.

Chamber members discussed the small number of candidates for the municipal election March 1. Dean Gaulke, retiring councilman, expressed his views and reasons for not seeking re-election.

Jack Dorey said the chamber and council should be working together for the best interests of the community. Many businessmen said it was time to bury small differences and aim toward this goal.

FOLLOWING general approval of a program to show appreciation to customers for shopping here, Russell Rentrow and Alton Bergh were named a committee to work out the details.

Perry Jenks announced that a Twins baseball clinic will be held here Aug. 20.

A new billboard to advertise St. Charles as a vacation site was discussed. It would emphasize the city's proximity to Whitewater State Park, the riding stables, the county fair here and the Gladiolus Festival.

Chinese College Girls Seeking Homes in Winona

Would you like to have a young Chinese woman living in your house?

Four college graduates from Formosa want to attend Winona State College, beginning in September, to work on graduate degrees.

These are not teenagers; they're in the mid-20s.

Dr. Frank L. Van Alstine, director of graduate education, said that the girls would like to make arrangements to work for the board and room while attending Winona State. One of them already has made such arrangements.

All of them have had classroom courses in English.

Winona State granted a master's degree in education to a Formosan, Grace Lai Fen-Lin of Tainan, last June. She is now teaching an elementary grade in St. Paul Park.

TEACHER AT LAKE CITY
LAKE CITY, Minn. (Special) — Paul E. Zimmerman, Ann Arbor, Mich., will be principal and eighth grade teacher at St. John's Lutheran School here beginning Aug. 1, succeeding LeRoy Leverson, who resigned to further his education. St. John's also needs a teacher for grades 3-4.

This Will Be Tough to Hide

Somewhat like the dog who caught the car, a thief or thieves probably were wondering today what they could do with the 5-by-3-foot metal sign they stole from in front of the senior high school Wednesday night.

Police Chief James W. McCabe said that the sign was set out by C. W. "Wes" Meyer, Minneapolis, of the state AAA Wednesday about 7 p.m. The sandwich-board-type sign advertised an AAA travel party being held in the senior high school auditorium.

The sign was gone when Meyer came out after the meeting, about 10 p.m., according to the chief. It is valued at $15. The sign, said Meyer, had been in similar locations in 28 other cities the past two years.

Buffalo Co. Board Honors 2 Members

ALMA, Wis. (Special) — The Buffalo County Board of Supervisors in session Tuesday honored two of its long-standing members, 85-year-old Oscar Florin, Fountain City, and Ferd Balzer, Town of Milton.

Florin, a continuous member since 1941, was presented an engraved plaque by Ed Sendelbach, Waumandee, board chairman. Florin has filed for supervisor on the reappointed board from Fountain City and will be opposed in the election April 5.

BALZER, 79, who has been on the board 30 years and in public service 53 years, has decided not to seek re-election because he feels someone younger should do the job.

Balzer in his farewell remarks, for this will be the last meeting of the current board, said, "There wasn't a crushed rock or oiled road in my town when I took office. Today all our roads are blacktopped and all 14 bridges are of concrete."

"I have served Milton as health officer. I helped those afflicted with the flu in one of the worst epidemics in our country. Most people didn't offer assistance, because of fear of contracting it."

"When a young man of 21 died of polio, no one gave help because of fear of the disease, so I helped bury him. We had private funeral services. Then I quarantined the home and premises."

A MOTION to raise the per diem of board members to $14 plus mileage was passed. Per diem for committee members was fixed at $12.

The board voted to purchase a new bituminous mixer at $35,000, less $2,500 trade-in for the present machine. The price has increased from $33,555 quoted when the resolution was presented last fall.

A proposal by Richard A. Myler and Ed Stokes of Addressograph Corp., St. Paul, that it purchase for $14,454.65, equipment for placing property descriptions on metal plates for a permanent file, was referred to the purchasing committee.

The booklet of county board proceedings for 1959 was not available as usual, according to Gale Hoch, county clerk, because of the death of Alton Nyseth, Mondovi Herald-News editor, who had the contract. Department reports were accepted and filed.

W. F. Nogle was seated on the board for Lorn Howard, 4th Ward, Mondovi, who is vacationing in Florida.

FHA Snowball Saturday at C-FC School

FOUNTAIN CITY, Wis. — "Our Winter Love" is the theme of the Future Homemakers of America Snowball Dance in the Cochrane-Fountain City High School gymnasium Saturday.

Dancing to the Henry Burton Orchestra, Winona, will be from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m. Announcement of the queen and her court will be made at 10 p.m., followed by the coronation and grand march.

Tickets may be obtained from FHA members or at the door.

Mabel Businessmen

MABEL, Minn. (Special) — New officers of the Mabel Business Association are: F. J. Mengis, president; Harold Karli, vice president; and Odell Lee Jr., secretary-treasurer. New directors for two-year terms are Melvin Landin, Paul Housker, Nansen Spande and K. V. Hagen. Holdover directors are Alvin Redwing, Leonard Walush, Clifford Kleibor and Neil Soltow.

60 at Mayor's Prayer Breakfast

About 60 city businessmen attended the first Winona Mayor's Prayer Breakfast this morning at Linahan's Inn.

Arthur R. Swan, a Rochester attorney, who is a past president of the Rochester council of churches and a licensed lay reader in the Episcopal Church, complimented Winona for starting a prayer breakfast.

Speaking of the acceptance of Christian teachings, Swan said that he believed the force and power of the personality which began the Christian faith, in an era where communication was limited, would have had a great influence in the world of today also.

"Except today people look at polls to see what the public thinks, instead of tackling great odds, as was tackled at the beginning of this religious belief," Swan said.

Mayor R. K. Ellings thanked the Winona Jaycees for helping sponsor the breakfast, hoped it will continue, and said "I will do all I can to see that it does continue."

The invocation was given by Bernard Wagnild, and the closing prayer by John Ortmann. Bible readings were given by Harvey Ganong and Phillip Felten.

The breakfast was tied in with the Presidential Prayer Breakfast held this morning in Washington, D.C. Many communities throughout the state and nation also held similar breakfasts.

Carl C. Hargesheimer
With Service Officer Plaque

VFW Honors Service Officer Hargesheimer

Twenty-five years as service officer won Carl C. Hargesheimer a special award Tuesday at the annual membership banquet of the Winona County VFW Post 1287, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Hargesheimer, a charter member of the post, received a plaque, struck especially for the occasion, from Milton Knutson, post commander. About 80 members were present, as well as Ald. James Soltman, representing the City Council, and Fire Marshal Cleo Keiper.

HARGESHEIMER's membership goes back to the post's beginnings, more than 41 years ago. He entered the Army in 1917 and was overseas from August 1918 to August, 1919. He was a platoon sergeant and machine gunner in the 14th Infantry Regiment of the 36th Division. The unit saw heavy action in the Meuse-Argonne Campaign, one of the most bitter of World War I.

With a handful of other charter members, Hargesheimer helped found the VFW post here Nov. 13, 1924. In the early years post meetings were rotated among members' homes.

It was known as Earl Neville Post, named for an Army Air Corps pilot who was killed in a plane crash. After World War II the name was changed to honor the men of that conflict. Chosen to represent them was the name of Kenneth Frank Lien, killed while in service with the Navy in the Caribbean.

PRESENT post membership is 509, members were told at the dinner.

Also present were Jerry Fakler, Prince Frost of the Gopher Realm, Dr. Cleve Gruler, Prince Frost of the Badger Realm, and James Goetz, who spoke on "Communist Cancer."

Gerald Van Pelt was master of ceremonies. Floyd Kuhlmann was acting chaplain in the absence of Raymond Buege.

Legion Club Renames Burt

Dr. D. T. Burt was re-elected president of the American Legion Memorial Club Wednesday evening.

The president, who has headed the club remodeling program, now virtually completed, was presented a diamond-centered American Legion lapel pin for his efforts.

Grand opening of the new club is planned Saturday evening. In anticipation of that the member-guest relationship was defined.

At the 22nd annual meeting of the club membership R. B. Mann, Merlin Von Bargen and Lyle Haney were re-elected to three-year terms on the board of directors. Walter H. Schmidt is a new member. Bernard F. Boland was chairman of the nominating committee, with Harold Thielow and Elgin Sonnerman as members.

At its reorganization meeting the board elected Dr. Burt; Haney, vice president; Robert Moravec, treasurer; and A. J. Kleibusch, secretary.

Winonan Hit In Viet Nam; In U.S. Hospital

Sp. 4 Ardell Nelsetuen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nelsetuen, 477 E. Bellevue St., is receiving treatment at an Army hospital in Denver, Colo., for wounds suffered in Viet Nam.

Nelsetuen received bullet wounds in his side and arm during action Jan. 28, only a few days before he was to have left Viet Nam for separation from the service.

He had been serving in Viet Nam for about four months with the 1st Infantry Division. His wife is the former Trudy Duellman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Duellman, Fountain City, Wis.

Arcadian Wins Oratory Contest

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — For the third year in a row, an Arcadia student has won the Trempealeau County American Legion oratorical contest.

Barbara Creeley, who won the county and 10th district contests last year and placed third in the regional event, won first again Wednesday night at the contest in the Trempealeau Electric Cooperative building.

Wayne Nelsetuen, Arcadia, won in 1964. Now the local American Legion post may keep the plaque, which would have traveled elsewhere if Barbara hadn't won.

Only other contestant was Ross Jacobson, Gale - Eltrick High School, Galesville, coached by Mrs. Elaine Nelson.

Barbara wrote her own oration on the subject, "Constitution, the Guardian of People's Rights." She was coached by Mrs. Joe Fernholz. Judges were Mrs. Anton Bautech, Independence, and Jerry Davis, Blair High School teacher.

Barbara, senior at Arcadia High School, will be entered in the 10th District Contest here Monday night; orators from nine counties will compete. Barbara is a senior at Arcadia High.

James Davis, Blair, was in charge of the contest. Martinus Benrud, Galesville, county American Legion commander, presided.

Contests Develop In Jordan Town

PRESTON, Minn. — Township of Jordan will have a new clerk following the election March 8; Arnold Bothum isn't seeking re-election. Clerk candidates are Paul Gladly and Ed Wright.

Louis Schmidt, supervisor, will have opposition from Benmie Bothum. Polls will be open in the town hall from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. The township meeting will be at 1:30 p.m.

Mark Street Crash

A two-vehicle collision at Mark and South Baker streets Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. resulted in $150 damage, police reported. Helen L. Wesenberg, 1681 Marian St., was driving south on South Baker Street; and Peter M. Peterson, 22, 508 Washington St., was driving west on Mark Street when the collision occurred, according to police. Damage was $100 to the right front of the Wesenberg car and $50 to the right rear of a panel truck owned by Haddad's Cleaners, 164 Main St.

Tax Issues Interest GOP Precincts

Winona County Republicans, caucusing last week in most of the county's 47 precincts, appeared concerned with state tax reform above other issues.

Reports on the Feb. 9 meetings at the party's grass roots are now almost all in the hands of county officers.

FOUR of the six precincts calling for tax reform favored a state retail sales tax. Partisans of the sales tax see it as a replacement for personal property taxes and as a means of removing what they feel are inequities in real estate tax structures.

Uncertain at that time whether Cong. Albert Quile would run for governor, many precincts steered clear of supporting resolutions for candidates. Seven precincts asked Quile to remain as a congressional candidate. The congressman has since said he will run for re-election to a sixth full term as 1st District representative.

Supporting Harold LeVander, South St. Paul, as candidate for governor were the following: 4th precinct, 1st Ward; 2nd and 3rd precincts, 4th Ward, and St. Charles Township.

Resolutions of support for William Randall, St. Paul, a gubernatorial candidate, were drafted by three Winona precincts: 2nd precinct, 1st Ward; 1st precinct, 3rd Ward; and 4th precinct, 4th Ward.

Two precincts asked Cong. Quile and Clark McGregor, St. Paul, to run for the positions of governor and U.S. Senator. These were by the 1st precinct, 1st Ward, and 2nd precinct, 3rd Ward, Winona.

Most precincts have endorsed 1st District GOP Chairman James Goetz for lieutenant governor, according to Mrs. George Garber, Winona, county chairwoman. Many also have passed supporting resolutions for Douglas Head, Minneapolis, a candidate for attorney general, she said.

Perhaps the leading advocate of a sales tax was the St. Charles Township caucus which recommended a 3 1/2 percent rate. This would replace the personal property tax and provide some real estate tax relief, the resolution stated.

Most sales tax proposals involve suggested rates of 2 1/2 to 3 percent. A Warren Township sales tax proposal asked for concurrent repeal of personal property taxes on livestock and a general tax revision.

A MORE detailed tax proposal was adopted in the 3rd precinct, 3rd Ward, Winona. Calling for sales taxes, it proposed a maximum of "2 percent of market value as the limiting factor for real estate tax assessments." A portion of sales taxes should be returned to local governments, the resolution stated. It also called the current $4,000 homestead exemption "unrealistic" and asked its increase.

Enactment of a sales tax to reduce personal property and real estate taxes also was endorsed by the Utica Township caucus.

Caucuses in Winona Township and Winona's 1st precinct, 3rd Ward, called for complete overhaul of the state tax system. The present system, charged the Winona precinct resolution, outmoded and a burden on many homeowners and elderly persons.

A resolution by the 2nd precinct, 1st Ward, backed legislation that would have candidates for governor and lieutenant governor run as a team on each party ticket.

RAPPING the knuckles of high government officials, St. Charles Republicans said "democracy can flourish only under conditions of enlightenment and candor. Secrecy must be limited strictly to matters of immediate national security."

The resolution asked "higher ethics in news dissemination" and deplored a "tendency to distort and suppress news."

Also adopted was a resolution chastising Congressional majorities for becoming "rubber stamps for the executive department." The constitutional separation of powers should receive continuous attention, said the resolution.

Delegates from St. Charles to the county convention: Mel Brownell, Alton Bergh, Ralph Stenback, Perry Jenks, Wally Ask, Jack Dorey, Grace Busan, Cyril Persons and Verena Mmbbutt. Alternates are: Betty Ask, Elwin Busan, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koch, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Bradt, Mrs. Alton Bergh, Curtis Randall and Sarah Gordon.

The county convention will be at Hotel Winona March 17, beginning at 8 p.m.

A Last Party For Billy Rose

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "Where's Eleanor?" Joyce Matthews asked through her black veil as she sat in the drawing room of the great Billy Rose town house . . . an hour after memorial services for Billy at the Billy Rose Theater.

"Yes of course, Eleanor Holm," Joyce said. "Oh, we're not enemies; I thought sure Eleanor would be here."

It was the last Billy Rose party at the old George F. Baker mansion with its Chippendale room, and the 200 who ate, drank and talked under the beautiful chandeliers and the art treasures that remain will not forget it.

"Want to come along up to Billy's?" somebody said to you after the memorial service . . . and suddenly you were being received by Polly Gottlieb, Billy's sister, and her husband, Alex Gottlieb, Hollywood producer . . . and then you were kissing Joyce Matthews.

"I'm homeless now," Joyce said, with a weak smile. "I don't know what I'll do."

"Is it true you were going to marry Billy for a third time?" someone asked.

Joyce was looking down at her flat-heeled Italian shoes she'd brought from Rome.

"We had plans, but they were vague," Joyce replied. "Oh, I would never have left him alone. And Vikki loved him."

Vikki Berle, adopted daughter of Joyce and Milton Berle during their marriage, now around 20, sat across the room. "This is Vikki's first encounter with death," Joyce said.

THE CONVERSATION was the kind you probably could hear nowhere else in the world. "At that table," said a man, pointing, "we closed a $12,000,000 deal just a month ago."

At the food table, an old Billy Rose employee confided, "There was a girl who tried to come in but I chased her. I thought she

Asian Flu Epidemic in Los Angeles

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The virus that has kept 250,000 Los Angeles children out of school has been identified by the California Department of Health as Asian flu.

Doctors at the department's virus laboratory made the identification Wednesday. The bug causes headaches and stomach upsets of a sort more intense than ordinary flu. It first came to California in 1957.

In the past two weeks, the strain has caused absenteeism to reach as high as 25 per cent in some school districts. A high number of teachers also have been hit.

The Los Angeles County Health Department has labeled the outbreak an epidemic, but has made no plans to close schools where about 530,000 pupils remain.

Cloquet Gets $3.7 Million For Waterworks

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A $3.7 million grant by the Economic Development Administration to the City of Cloquet, to help finance a water distribution system to serve communities in two states was announced Wednesday by members of the Minnesota congressional delegation.

The system will draw water from Lake Superior to serve Cloquet and Superior, Wis., and other nearby communities.

Ships Trading With Viet Cong Face Boycott

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Maritime unions meeting here today reportedly will consider boycotting foreign ships — including those of Allied nations — that trade with North Viet Nam. The boycott in effect would close U.S. ports to hundreds of foreign vessels.

A spokesman for the AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Department said the International Longshoremen's Association which imposed a boycott against U.S. wheat shipments to the Soviet Union two years ago, will propose the new boycott.

The spokesman said such a boycott would affect ships of Great Britain, France, Norway, Italy, Greece, United Arab Republic and other nations that have dealt with North Viet Nam.

"The ILA is seriously considering refusing to load any such ship," the spokesman said.

ILA President Thomas W. Gleason is expected to ask support of the boycott by the 28 other maritime unions meeting

Accidents Kill 14,100 in Year

CHICAGO (AP) — Workers killed in accidents on the job totaled 14,100 in 1965, the National Safety Council said today. This was 100 fewer than in 1964. Disabling injuries, however, rose to 2,100,000 from 2,050,000 the preceding year.

The council placed the cost of work accidents to the United States economy at $6 billion. This consisted of lost wages, medical expenses, overhead costs of insurance, interrupted production schedules, time lost by workers other than those injured and losses from work-associated fires.

Profile of Family— Going Broke

SYLVIA PORTER, a wise and readable columnist, wrote what the headline writer called Profile of a Family That Is Going Broke. Her information came from a study made by Dr. Milton J. Huber, associate professor at the University of Wisconsin. He interviewed 100 Detroit families, most of whom qualified for bankruptcy.

Here is the professor's profile:

- The family is young, has more than the average number of children. Average income is a respectable $8,500.

- The parents are easy-going, carefree and impulsive, have "limited pleasure postponement mechanisms" and rubber wills when confronted with high pressure salesmen.

- While the husband in most cases, is satisfied with his job, one in three wives is dissatisfied with her husband's pay.

- The family doesn't read anything, not even the daily newspapers. TV is the major communication medium in the family's life and TV disproportionately influences the couple's buying decisions.

- The parents tend to blame their plight on vague, unavoidable "circumstances" or superficial back-breaking straws such as pregnancy, temporary loss of job, buying a car — and thus feel their troubles are not their fault.

- Neither husband nor wife assumes clear responsibility for managing the family's finances and the husband certainly doesn't take over the task on his own.

"EVEN AMONG the couples who thought they were sharing money management responsibilities, there was little indication of joint decision-making, democratically planned," says Huber. "What really appeared to be operating was a laissez-faireism parading as sort of magnanimous democracy in the dispensing of funds."

As one husband remarked, "We don't quibble about it. If either one of us wants to buy, we buy!"

North Highways More Vital Than South?

(Red Wing Republican-Herald)

A RECENT EDITORIAL in the Minneapolis Tribune called attention to Gov. Rolvaag's request for $429.4 million in federal economic development funds for extra highway building in Northern Minnesota. It noted that part of the governor's plan is to build a four-lane expressway across the state from Duluth to Grand Forks, N.D., and it asked:

"Is that more vital than improvement of, say, U.S. Highway 61 through the Hiawatha Valley?"

Good. The news about our valley's highway needs — pushed so energetically but without success in last year's legislature — seems to be getting around.

Note also the reasons offered for this whale-sized extra highway investment in Minnesota's northern reaches. Point No. 1 is to encourage tourism. Also to facilitate grain hauling, eliminate springtime weight limits on secondary highways, and promote commercial and industrial development.

Every one of these reasons is logical justification for stepped-up highway investment in the Hiawatha Valley. Even the one about grain hauling, for posted limits on State 58 hamper grain movement to Red Wing in the spring. As for tourism, no highway improvement is more vital to Minnesota's vacation industry generally than upgrading "Gateway 61" for the summer travel moving northwest from populous Chicago and points east.

WE DON'T CRITICIZE Gov. Rolvaag for seeking these juicy highway millions for Northern Minnesota if they're served up on the Washington platter. But he should also be seeking comparable funds for better highways for other portions of Minnesota which don't carry an "economically distressed" label. He should be advocating the accelerated highway financing that's available to Minnesota on its own. If he needs reasons, he can find them in what Wisconsin Gov. Warren Knowles told the Badger state's annual highway conference in Milwaukee.

According to the U.S. Bureau of Roads, Knowles pointed out then, highway construction costs rose 3.5 percent during the first nine months of 1965. The state can borrow for around 3 percent interest. So, said Knowles, "if we don't pay interest, we're going to pay 3 to 3½ percent more (in construction costs) for the highways we build."

"The matter of interest is the only... debt" against the case for state highway bonding, Knowles maintained. And it's more than offset by these credits: Right of way becomes more expensive to buy the longer purchase is delayed; better highways save motorists in fuel and tire costs and travel time; modern highways encourage private economic investment; and "the biggest factor of all is safety." Every five miles of new freeway saves one life per year, Knowles said.

THIS IS GOOD logic. We should like to see Gov. Rolvaag — and other aspirants for office — go into their 1968 campaigns with enthusiastic support for a state highway bond issue to spur construction in parts of Minnesota that aren't riding the gravy train for a federal highway bonanza.

But godliness with contentment is great gain. — I. Timothy 6:6.

U.S. Dissenters Prolonging War

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Dissenters in the United States may not realize it, but they may be prolonging the war in Viet Nam. They could be responsible indirectly for the continuing loss of American lives.

This is the conclusion which many observers here, including veteran senators, have reached. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, for example, has no right under the rules of the Senate to hold hearings on strictly military matters concerning operations in Viet Nam or elsewhere. If any committee has jurisdiction on the question of whether a war is being fought effectively, it is the Senate Armed Services Committee and its counterpart in the House of Representatives.

WHEN ASKED by this correspondent about the discussion of American military strategy in public hearings, Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, Democrat, who happens to be chairman of the Armed Services Committee, replied:

"I think it would be a grave mistake for any active U.S. military officer — or civilian official — to testify in open hearings on so delicate a subject as Viet Nam."

"What about the significance of dissent generally?" was the next question.

"Every dissent," the senator replied, "prolongs the war. It makes no difference if some poor, half-baked beatnik — he can do it — or a senator of the United States who is highly critical of the war demands that we get out, or has a different theory than the administration as to the objectives and purposes of the war. This undoubtedly confirms Ho Chi Minh in his basic concept that the United States just wouldn't have the patience to wage a very lengthy war there."

"THERE IS, of course, every legal right to dissent. But the fact is that the boys over there in Viet Nam are paying a rather high price for our vaunted right of public dissent. There's no question about that — many boys will lose their lives as a result of it. For much of the dissent confirms the North Vietnamese in their theory that, if they can just hold on for a while longer, we will get tired and go away."

Sen. Russell is not a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, but in his capacity as chairman of the Armed Services Committee he holds hearings, usually in private, at which military men come to testify. Their testimony in whole or in part is kept secret or made public in accordance with the wishes of the executive branch of the government.

IT IS IMPORTANT that committees be kept informed in confidence about virtually every significant development in a war that has taken 200,000 American troops to a distant land. During the two world wars, there was frequent communication between the President or his Cabinet officers and the committees of Congress. This is because, under the Constitution, the obligation is placed on the Senate and the House to make rules for the governing of the armed forces of the nation. Public hearings are not required and usually are not held during a war.

THE STRATEGISTS

THE WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

House Will Investigate U.S. Charity Foundations

By JACK ANDERSON

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson's column today is written by his associate, Jack Anderson.)

WASHINGTON — Some of the biggest corporations in America are now controlled by tax-exempt foundations which were established not so much to dispense charity as to dodge taxes.

This has been documented in such exhaustive detail by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., that President Johnson in his economic message last month called upon Congress "to deal with abuses of tax-exempt private foundations."

The most important reform, now taking shape inside the House Ways and Means Committee, would prohibit foundations from owning more than 20 percent of any business. Patman believes this kind of tax-exempt ownership should be limited more drastically.

The big foundations are eager to block this and other reforms without appearing to do so, for they could lose their tax privileges if they were caught lobbying.

TO HELP THEM out of their predicament, three congressmen suddenly have become busy in the Capitol cloakrooms doing the back-stage button-holing that the foundations are prohibited by law from doing.

These three helpful fellows are Howard Smith, D-Va., chairman of the House Rules Committee; H. Allen Smith, R-Calif., top Republican on the Rules Committee; and James Utt, R-Calif., third-ranking Republican on the Ways and Means Committee.

All three hold key committee assignments, which put them in a position to throw roadblocks in the way of the proposed reforms. All three also are involved in business deals with tax-exempt foundations — a detail they have neglected to mention to colleagues whose votes they have solicited.

HOWARD Smith is chairman of the Alexandria National Bank, which is controlled by the International Bank. This, in turn, is controlled by George Olmsted, whose tax-exempt George Olmsted Foundation owns 17 percent of the common voting stock.

H. Allen Smith has been trying to negotiate a real estate deal with the James Irvine Foundation, which controls a fabulous, 93,000-acre real estate empire in suburban Los Angeles.

In a letter to Mrs. Thurmond Clarke, mother of Joan Irvine Smith, biggest single stockholder in the Irvine property, the congressman has offered to intervene with the chief counsel in charge of investigative foundations and "do anything I can to assist."

"On another subject," he added with startling candor, "for the past year or two I have been trying to get started at Irvine, maybe building an office building, apartments, or other facilities."

"I SIMPLY wanted to mention this because I know that we could build in accordance with the regulations in a very outstanding manner, and if some opportunity opens up, we would certainly be interested."

Cong. Utt is even closer to the same Irvine Foundation, which controls 53 percent of the voting stock of the Irvine Company. The Utt Development Company, founded by the congressman's father, happens to be a subsidiary of the Irvine Company.

At a company barbecue several months ago, N. Loyall McLaren, president of the Irvine Foundation, introduced Utt to the 600 guests as "our friend who has come to our aid in Washington without being asked."

Apparently Utt, like the two Smiths, didn't need to be asked.

TIPPED OFF that a bribe had been paid in connection with the painting of the Capitol dome, this column in 1954 dug into the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers and printed an expose that led to the conviction of Robert Lowry, the local district head.

Ten years later, Lowry's cronies got back into control of the district council and began clamoring for his reinstatement. L. M. Rafferty, the international president, turned them down flatly.

"Well, THIS certainly wasn't in the 'discover the joys of suburban living' advertisements!"

WASHINGTON CALLING

Guns vs. Butter Conflict Raging

By MARQUIS CHILDS

HONOLULU — The absurdity of the guns-versus-butter conflict is nowhere more evident than in this tropic mid-Pacific state.

A command post and a staging area for the Viet Nam War, military pay and military construction pour new millions into the Hawaiian economy as the war expands. But at the same time a tourist boom is bringing hundreds of thousands of visitors to the islands and hotels are springing up with the luxuriance of tropical vegetation. Coming at the beginning of the peak tourist season, the Honolulu conference drew howls of rage from visitors put out of their rooms in the Royal Hawaiian Hotel to make way for the White House and the press.

Even though Waikiki Beach is almost solidly lined with big hotels it was hard to find space elsewhere for the evicted. Sheraton is putting up a new 800-room hotel next to the Royal Hawaiian and a hall to accommodate conventions. The aircraft companies are projecting jets big enough to take 250 passengers in the near future, and this is counted on to increase the flow of visitors.

The boom has spread to the outer islands where visitors can find more quiet and a lush setting still relatively unspoiled. On the big island of Hawaii, Laurence Rockefeller has put a reported $12,000,000 in a pleasure dome called the Mauna Kea Beach Hotel. Built on the arid side of the island wells were sunk to supply water for the hotel and for a sporty Robert Trent Jones golf course with emerald greens where once little vegetation grew.

MAUNA KEA is said to have had scarcely a vacant room since it was opened last July. Expanding his tourist empire, which extends from the Caribbean to the Pacific, Rockefeller is expected to increase his operation in Hawaii as the boom continues.

The beautiful island of Maui, where once there was only the comparatively simple cottage resort of Hama Maui, is seeing new hotels rise with surprising speed as is the island of Kauai. The Sheraton — Maui rises cliffside above the beach. Hilton is enlarging the Hawaiian Village in Honolulu and pursuing ambitious plans elsewhere.

The Hawaiian Visitors Bureau spins off statistics to show how the tourist trade is escalating. The projection for 1966 is 780,000 visitors, with one million by 1970. Through 1970 10,000 hotel rooms will be added. If these figures are any proof, there is no obstacle — certainly not the Viet Nam war — to the upsurge.

ALL THIS is a far cry from the Hawaii of an earlier day which old-timers recall with almost tearful nostalgia. The islands still had something of the magic of the past, the paradise that Captain Cook so rudely broke into nearly 200 years ago. A few visitors came by steamer from the mainland and stayed a month or two at one of the two or three relatively simple hotels on Waikiki. The small military establishment was all spit and polish, an outpost in what was to all intents and purposes a foreign land with the territorial governor exercising a large degree of authority.

Obliterating this past, the boom is proving costly in many ways. University of Hawaii marine biologists and zoologists have just warned that Kaneohe Bay, rated as one of the world's greatest laboratories of sea life, is becoming highly polluted.

It would be hard to find a better example of creating with one hand and destroying with the other. The state of Hawaii is investing a considerable sum to establish an important marine biology facility on the south pocket of Kaneohe Bay. But it is likely to become worthless as new sewage plants built by the city of Honolulu and the state pour waste into the bay. This, together with flood waters from the new subdivisions, threatens to destroy the coral reefs that are the base of studies uniquely possible here.

AT THE SAME time a more ominous report from three University of California scientists was presented to an annual conference on pesticides. The report said that analysis of marine life taken in waters off San Francisco, Seattle, Hawaii, and the Galapagos Islands showed that of over 400 samples only four were without a measurable residue of man-made chemicals. Some species showed a high concentration of DDT. The pesticide DDT does not dilute in the ocean but concentrates in bays and estuaries which, the scientists noted, form the "nursery" for many commercially important species of fish. DDT in the concentration found in marine life, the report solemnly concluded, is the first recognition that the biological expanse of the oceans is not infinite.

The highways leading to Camp Smith, headquarters of the Pacific command, are choked with traffic in the early morning and again in late afternoon. Cars inch along bumper to bumper, taking 45 minutes to go a few miles. An unplanned paradise, as Hawaii is discovering, can become unplanned chaos.

Answers To Your Questions

Dear Dr. Molner: I have been told that emphysema is the same as silicosis. — H.C.P.

They are not identical although there are similarities. Both involve loss of ability by the lungs to absorb enough oxygen. Silicosis and emphysema may be present at the same time, but there are countless emphysema cases which do not involve silicosis.

Dear Dr. Molner: Wax accumulates in my ears to such a degree that I cannot hear. I have had it washed out three times in the last 10 years. What can I do to prevent wax from hardening in the ears — P.E.

Wax is a normal secretion. When it accumulates too rapidly, I know of no prevention, but it is not too difficult to rinse out the excess. I'd suggest a rinsing once a year or thereabouts by your doctor. Then ask him for any procedure you may use between visits. A drop of warm sweet oil or olive oil, left overnight, will soften the wax. Then warm water, inserted with a rubber ear syringe, will wash out loosened wax. The important precaution is to let the water flow in and out; do not jam the syringe in so that it exerts pressure on the ear drum.

Winona Auto Sales in New Quarters

When Winona Auto Sales formally opens its new display and service facilities Friday and Saturday, visitors will see some 50 models of 1966 Dodge and Rammer lines.

The L-shaped steel and glass building at West 3rd and Huff streets has one of the largest showrooms in southern Minnesota and, says management, the only one with wall-to-wall carpeting. Six cars can be shown on the 2,360 square feet of display floor.

THE NEW CAR display space and offices are fully air conditioned, according to Gordon Flanary, owner and operator of the firm.

First occupied Dec. 10, 1965, the new building and lot form another example of privately financed renewal in the area. It formerly was the site of a deteriorating residential district.

Flanary also considers the location a good one because it is near several other automobile dealers. A higher rate of traffic, engendered by such a concentration, is valuable to all the dealers, he believes.

IN ADDITION to its new facility, the company will continue to operate its used car lot at 3rd Street and Mankato Avenue, Flanary said. Used car sales manager is R. W. "Sonny" Ahrens who has been with the agency ever since Flanary took it over in 1962.

The new car sales staff has five members, including Flanary. Cy Kohner, a veteran of 30 years in the auto business, is sales manager. He joined the agency in July 1965.

The company also will carry the full line of Dodge trucks, Flanary said.

Shop services occupy 3,200 square feet and are staffed by seven employees. Roger Brown is service manager. The area is equipped for major overhaul and service of all makes, Flanary said. New equipment includes three hoists and analyzer and tuneup apparatus.

Such services enable the firm to supply warranties on restored used cars that are honored universally by members of the Minnesota Auto Dealers Association.

A stock of parts that already includes 14,000 items will be expanded so faster turnover can be achieved in the repair section, Flanary explained.

FLANARY is a native of St. Charles who was graduated from high school in St. Paul. He began his business career with the Piggly Wiggly market system but switched to automobiles in 1935.

From 1935 to 1962 he was with St. Paul auto agencies. He moved to Winona in 1962 to take over the Rammer agency. The Dodge dealership was added in the fall of 1963.

Flanary and his wife live at 1359 Glenview Rd. He is a member of the Chamber of Commerce, Elks, Rotary Club, Winona Athletic Club and the Knights of Columbus.

Hennepin District Judge Resigns

Duluth Firm Votes Against Union

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — Employees of Duluth Avionics Corp.

voted against union affiliation Wednesday in a National Labor Relations Board election. The vote was 382 for no union, 161 for representation by the Communications Workers of America and 110 for the United Auto Workers.

Mondovi Board Discusses Vocational Plan

MONDOVI, Wis. (Special) — A vocational program for Mondovi High School was discussed by the board of education.

Supt. William Hehl explained the federal aid program under way.

Computers, office machines, engines and motors will be purchased, the board was told. However, the board took no action as it may be possible to obtain the items through federal aid.

APPROXIMATELY $36,000 has been received in federal aid under Title 1 of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, Hehl said, and another $25,000 soon will be available.

With the first installment, five new teachers have been hired to assist students who need help in reading, mathematics and other subjects. Two rooms in the rear of the old gym have been paneled and equipped with bookshelves, desks, restrooms, chairs and books, new typewriters, projectors and other necessary equipment.

With the additional money, the district expects to employ a full-time nurse, speech therapist and an extra guidance teacher. Some of the funds may be used for dental and medical care.

The board agreed to install a TV antenna with National Defense Education Act funds that will provide a TV wire for each room in the school. It is expected that educational programs from all stations, including the Twin Cities, can be received following installation. The government will pay 65 percent of the $1,800 cost.

The board suggested that Hehl submit specifications for two new school bus bodies. The board hopes to get a better price by bidding with seven other schools in Cooperative Educational Agency 6.

THE BOARD also suggested drawing up specifications for a small bus for transporting kindergarten children.

The board agreed to raise the maximum on the salary schedule. Bids will be opened on or before July 1 on health insurance coverage of teachers and janitors. The present policy expires Oct. 1.

Representatives from Canton School complained about the school and were advised they would be taken care of. Hehl and other board members were authorized to attend the National School Board Association meeting at Minneapolis April 23-26.

Computer Error Overpays Woman

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Minneapolis office of Bankers Life Casualty Co. of Chicago has filed a Hennepin County District Court suit against the estate of Mrs. Esther S. Schmidt, 71, Minneapolis, because of an alleged computer error.

The company contends a computer error resulted in the issuing of an $8,247 check to the estate instead of the proper $54. The company wants the difference back.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Myers

Dennis Myers Weds Norma Doughty At Arkansaw

ARKANSAW, Wis. — Miss Norma Doughty, Minneapolis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Doughty, Arkansaw, and Dennis Myers, Hazen, N.D., son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Myers, Arkansaw, were married Feb. 5 at the Methodist Church.

The Rev. Arvid Morey officiated. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor-length gown of peau de sole, appliqued with lace at the neckline. A princess crown of pearls and crystals held her veil. She carried a bouquet of red and white peppermint carnations.

The bride's sister, Miss Audrey Doughty, who was maid of honor, was attired in a long-sleeved, street-length dress of red velvet. Allen Pfeiffer, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Bruce and Dennis Myers. A reception was held in the church basement.

The newlyweds will make their home in Hazen.

Prince of Peace ALCW Installs

LA CRESCENT, Minn. (Special) — Mrs. Robert Johnson was installed as president of the Prince of Peace American Lutheran Church Women.

Others installed were: Mrs. Francis Fancher, vice president; Mrs. Frank Olson, secretary; Mrs. Robert Lobert, treasurer; Mrs. Edward Wagner, secretary of education, and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, secretary of stewardship.

The Rev. Paul Fransen conducted the installation.

So HELP Me by Fran

After telling you last week that I was going to the Clair School, I found that morning that I wasn't up to the little trip and driving — I am sorry — I wanted so much to go, in order to learn a few new things myself and pass them on to you — No luck this time, but guess I can only say, "There can always be another time" — I've been learning that the hard way.

I have you tried Bonne Bell's Cleansing Bar? If not, this type of weather would be a good time to start — You will find it at BROWN DRUG — It is not a soap, but lathers like it is — is a solid cake in a plastic container with its own little sponge for application — Odd, but dry or oily skin reacts well to the cleansing — and makes your skin feel wonderful — very gentle but will even take off eye make-up — Dry heat indoors and wind and cold weather outside really makes our complexion take a beating — No matter what your age, you had better be taking care of that complexion — This item sells for $1.50 — If you have already been using this cake, this is the last chance to buy a special — four bars for $1.50.

Going to have a new permanent? Spring not too far off — Treatment of the hair first is so important — why not give yourself at least two treatments of Dorothy Gray Ogilvie PRE-PERM before the permanent — Helps to put back that elasticity that is so necessary before having a successful permanent — For a professional type permanent use the Dorothy Gray Ogilvie Permanent — It is excellent — ask someone who has used one.

Famous Kingston Trio Scores Hit With Capacity Crowd at St. Mary's

By BOB WHEELER

The white spotlight beamed on stage right and the Kingston Trio bowed before a capacity crowd of 2,500 people Wednesday evening in the St. Mary's gymnasium.

Their first song, "A Hard Travelling Man," was a rousing number which was greeted by enthusiastic response from the audience and the mood was set for the rest of the hour and half concert. Dressed in their now trademark — famous sport shirts and slacks, the Trio presented a balanced show of newer tunes and their own popular numbers.

Portia Club Attends Theater After Meeting

Portia Club members were entertained at the home of Mrs. John Tweedy early Monday evening and after a brief business session and the serving of dessert and coffee, went to the Wenonah Players presentation of "All the Way Home" at Winona State College.

Mrs. S. A. Sawyer presided at the meeting, when plans were discussed for the annual awards night dessert bridge party at the conclusion of the Bridge Marathon. It will be held March 28 at First Congregational Church Fellowship Hall, with Mrs. Carl Kiehnbaum and Mrs. Stanley A. Hammer as co-chairmen.

Members were reminded that the Bloodmobile will be at Lucas Lodge March 23 and announcement was made of the Quilt 'N' Tea being held today at the Winona County Historical Society Museum.

Mrs. Jaycees Tour Watkins Memorial Home

Mrs. Jaycees met Tuesday evening at Paul Watkins Methodist Memorial Home and were taken on a tour by Leigh Bell.

HE TOLD THE young matrons that most of the original furnishings and decorations are still in main rooms of the Manor House. Most residents' rooms are single, he said, and many of the residents use their own furniture, which makes them feel more at home.

The Mrs. Jaycees saw the new addition, Florence Hall, which has a dining room where most of the residents eat. The fourth floor of the new hall is for the nursing care patients and the third floor will be used for the same purpose when it is completed, Mr. Bell said.

During a business session, presided over by Mrs. David McClung, vice president, the members agreed to donate $25 to the American Field Service. Mrs. Kurt Reinhard, nominating committee chairman, announced that Mrs. John Breilow and Mrs. O. J. Fawcett will serve on her committee.

WINONA Mrs. Jaycees are assisting in the organization of a chapter at Lanesboro, Minn., and Mrs. David Campbell and Mrs. Mikkel Stensrud of Lanesboro were present to see how the local meetings are conducted.

Dessert and coffee were served by Mrs. Earl Flatness and Mrs. James Hansen.

OES Chapter 141 Hears Reports, Sees Travel Film

Mrs. E. S. Moe, Order of Eastern Star worthy matron, opened the Monday evening meeting of the Winona Chapter 141, OES with a short Valentine reading.

COMMITTEE reports were given by the following: Mrs. Arthur Jackman, central service; Mrs. Moe, cards, and Mrs. William Mann, Valentine luncheon. Reports on visits to other chapters were given by Mrs. Herbert Schludskne, Mystic Circle, Chapter 153, Houston, and Mrs. Moe, Galesville Chapter 206.

An invitation was read from Sunbeam Chapter 207, Lewiston, Minn., to attend its Friendship Night Tuesday at 8 p.m., at which time the station of the chaplain will be honored.

SLIDES OF A recent trip to Europe were shown and narrated by Mrs. George Engstrom and Mrs. A. G. Lackore.

Refreshments were served in the ballroom where the tables were decorated in a Valentine motif. Mrs. Gordon Ballard was in charge of decorations. On the committee were Mrs. Frank Morten Sr., chairman, assisted by the Meses, Lou Putnam, Fae Griffith and Engenia Gates and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Smith.

Edwin Greethurst was in charge of the stage and lighting effects.

2,000 Hear Back Porch Majority

Nearly 2,000 persons heard "The Back Porch Majority" at Winona State College's Memorial Hall Tuesday evening.

The young understudies for the New Christy Minstrels presented a varied program which was received by an enthusiastic audience.

The seven young men and women have traveled nearly 200,000 miles in less than two years to make their public appearances.

Sex Education In Home Topic At St. Mary's

"Sex Education in the Home" was the title of the Tuesday evening program of St. Mary's Home and School Association.

ANTHONY REILLY of the psychology department at the College of Saint Teresa, and a member of St. Mary's Parish, spoke on trouble spots a child meets from birth through adolescence. He stressed handling children's earlier situations and questions with the matter-of-factness and sometimes by completing ignoring the situation.

"In adolescence, the parent should look for the reason behind an odd sexual habit, which could stem from insecurity at home, school or with the opposite sex," he said.

The Rev. Richard DeGrood, religion teacher at St. Mary's College and the College of Saint Teresa, stressed the need for religious experiences in the home. "This will provide the child a normal background and feeling of security," he said.

HE ALSO emphasized the importance of parents taking a few minutes to listen to their children each day. It is important, he said, for parents to find that extra moment to listen to children tell about their day at school, etc. "This is the way parents bring their children closer to them and to other members of the family," said Father DeGrood.

Dr. James Testor conducted the business meeting. Lunch was served.

works are of the folk variety, tales and legends of America past and present put to music.

"Folk music is one thing which won't die," Reynolds mentioned. "Some styles of folk music will change, today we have a social protest song for instance, but in one form or another it will always be with us."

What about social protest songs?

"We don't particularly like social protest songs. I guess 'Where Have All the Flowers Gone' is the only song we sing which could be classified as one. Like every other form of popular music the social protest song will fade somewhat."

How did the Kingston Trio achieve the prominence it now has in the music world?

"Well," Nick said, "Bob (Stewart) and I had been playing together in college. After we graduated, we began playing professionally in San Francisco with Dave Guard (who has since left the group and was replaced by John Stewart). A record company came to us and asked us to make a recording. Since then it has taken hard work and an interest in what we've been doing."

AND THE future of the Kingston Trio?

Reynolds sat back, a satisfied and successful young man. "We'll continue like we've been doing for the past few years. We don't make the same amount of appearances as we did in the beginning. And we'll continue to release some new albums. We have one about ready now, featuring ballads. And perhaps there'll be more spot shots on television. But basically it will be live shows, which are our favorite."

And in reality, the future of the Trio couldn't be much brighter. Upon leaving the dressing room, a crowd of nearly 100 people of all ages was waiting anxiously for a chance to speak with these three personable young men and get their autographs.

Festival in Maine

Carl Ruggles, One-Time Winona Conductor, Given Tribute by Critic

Carl Ruggles, composer, who founded and conducted an orchestra in Winona for 11 years more than half a century ago, is featured in the Feb. 7 edition of Newsweek.

His is the leading story in the music section. Area music lovers, including Earl Wood of Cochran, Wis., recall Ruggles conducting the Winona orchestra in such concerts as "Carmen," with Mrs. Ruggles singing Lola, on Feb. 7, 1912; the second annual Spring Festival on April 25, 1912, when Bizet's "Carmen" was performed; a Red Cross benefit on May 10, 1918; and another on April 29, 1908.

MR. WOOD played violin under Ruggles' direction in the orchestra, as did Frank Votruba, who is now playing in the new Winona Symphony Orchestra.

Because John Fitzpatrick of the department of music at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y., is taking charge of Ruggles' music manuscripts and other papers, a search is being made to find programs of his concerts in Winona. Anyone having such programs is asked to notify Mrs. Jean Hagen in care of the Daily News.

The Newsweek writer opens his story on Ruggles thus:

"THAT CARL Ruggles is alive — and musically kicking — is known to a few, surprising to many and meaningless to most. Neglected all his life, parsimoniously productive, Ruggles nevertheless stands high among the great generations of trail-blazing American composers, led by Charles Ives, that included Wallingford Riegger, John Alden Carpenter, and John Becker. 'I am the last,' says Ruggles, who will be 90 years old on March 11.

"In a tribute long overdue, Maine's Bowdoin College last week held a three-day Carl Ruggles Festival, where almost all of his small output was played and discussed.

"The festival culminated in Portland, Maine, where the Boston Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Jean Martinon, gave the American premiere of Ruggles' 'Sun-Treader.' Ruggles has never attended a performance of this tone poem, which was played first in Paris in 1932. Nor could he undertake the 150-mile journey to Portland from his home in Arlington, Vt.

"IF RUGGLES' productivity has been less than bountiful, it has yielded a rare crop. Virgil Thomson, keynoter of the Festival, told how 'Ruggles polished his works minutely again and again so that every note would stand the test of time.'

"From the song 'Toys' (1919), the earliest work Ruggles has acknowledged, to the last, 'Organum,' for orchestra (1945), each work reveals a lean, harmonious solution to musical problems.

"He wears his integrity like a chip on his shoulder," said Thomson.

"Ruggles, whose New England ancestry dates back more than 300 years, has a puritanical distrust of facility.

"BE GLAD OF obstacles," he says. "If you don't run into them 'suspicion yourself.' Stumbling blocks should be stepping-stones."

Of the Sun-Treader the Newsweek writer says, "its title comes from Browning's narrative poem, 'Pauline' — 'Sun-treader — light and life be thine forever.' It is Ruggles' masterpiece and the summation of his career. It is scored for a large orchestra, 15 minutes long.

Carl Ruggles, Composer

After leaving Winona, Ruggles became active in New York's International Composers' Guild and beginning in 1937 taught composition at the University of Miami, Fla.

"Small and lively, Ruggles is crusty, feisty, quick, emotional, earthy, humorous and shrewd — and capable of being any or all in a moment. 'My trouble,' he says, 'is that I've got a young mind in an old carcass. . . But at my age a sense of humor helps. . . He seemed to make the last lines of the Browning poem joyously pertinent: 'All in whom this wakes pleasant thoughts of me, Know my last state is happy — free from doubt, Or touch of fear. Love me and wish me well.'"

From Her, Buying's Easy

By GLENN HELGELAND
Daily News Farm Editor

What's it like to interview Princess Kay?

Well, if the interviewer is 22, single, and uh, well, ah, you see, golly, it sure was the most enjoyable interview this farm reporter ever did.

PRINCESS KAY, known at Clarissa, Minn.—which is about 70 miles north of St. Cloud—as Mary Ann Titrud until she won the Princess' crown at the 1965 Minnesota State Fair, was in Winona last Thursday and Friday to promote the dairy industry and dairy product sales. And if every consumer of dairy products in the state could have the opportunity to talk personally with Princess Kay, he (or she) would be so impressed with her sincerity, natural charm and belief in dairy product values that dairy products sales would shoot skyward.

Eighteen, poised and articulate, Princess Kay shows that she deeply believes in the value of statewide dairy promotion, and of the responsibility she has in aiding this work. "Farming is my parents' life, heart and soul," she said. "I grew up with this attitude all the time, and I was made a part of everything. That means I worked," she quipped.

Her father has a herd of 25 registered Holsteins. At her graduation from high school last summer, Princess Kay owned 11 head of dairy stock.

WHAT'S IT LIKE to suddenly go from student to Princess Kay? "It is a remarkable experience. Other people can tell you all about it, but you have to experience it yourself to really know how much it means," she said.

"Be sincere. That's what means the most, no matter who you are talking to," she says. If you aren't, it's the first thing to show up, Princess Kay explained. "The work I'm doing, and the value of the dairy promotion to each farmer, becomes very clear and impressive when I think back over the number of appearances made on the dairy industry's behalf."

"I only hope I will have contributed something when the year is over (at the next ceremony at the Minnesota State Fair)."

She had no estimate of the number of people she has met and spoken to. "But the world isn't as big as it seems, because at every place I have been, someone has told me they know some of my relatives or someone from Clarissa," she said.

NO STRANGER to winning beauty and talent contests, Miss Titrud was the Clarissa High School FFA Sweetheart in 1964, the outstanding high school home economics student in her junior and senior years, was Miss Vacationland 1965 at Wadena and was runner-up in the 1965 Miss Minnesota district contest for her area.

She will compete in the national dairy princess contest in June at Chicago.

After her reign ends she plans to enroll in a three-year course in interior decorating at the Minneapolis Technical Institute. She was a summer student at the Minnesota School of Art when the crowning as Princess Kay interrupted her schooling.

MODERN AGRICULTURE... is more than farming. That's the theme of this year's National FFA Week, which begins Saturday. Just to prove they believe in their slogan, Minnesota's state Future Farmers of America officers arranged to have Princess Kay along to make a "sale" when they asked Gov. Karl Rolvaag to sign the traditional proclamation for their observance. From left, Earl Olson, Parkers Prairie, state president; Ron Pesek, Canby, vice president, and Jim Riess, Pine Island, secretary.

Nodine Co-op Volume Up

DAKOTA, Minn. — Nodine Cooperative Creamery Association had milk sales receipts of $731,844 in 1965.

The co-op received 21,639,962 pounds of milk, an increase of 635,065 pounds from 1964.

These totals were announced Friday at the co-op's annual meeting. About 23 attended.

Wayne Albrecht, Lamolite, and Leo Liebsch, Dakota, were re-elected directors. At the board reorganization meeting Arnold Zenke, Dakota, was elected president; Arnold Jacobs, Dakota, vice president; Wayne Albrecht, secretary, and Garvin Sebo, Dakota, treasurer.

Other directors are Kenneth Albrecht, La Crescent; Leo Liebsch, and Everett Larsen. Millard Chab, dairy inspector, and Les Herreid, field manager for Sparta Cooperative, spoke.

14,236 Members in Minnesota

FFA Observing National Week

By GLENN HELGELAND
Daily News Farm Editor

Vocational agriculture students in Winona and other high schools throughout the nation will join Future Farmers of America members in activities to focus attention on the importance of agriculture during National FFA Week, beginning Saturday and lasting until Feb. 26.

"Agriculture is more than farming" is this year's theme. The vo-ag boys in many areas will undertake a campaign to inform the general public about the importance of the agricultural industry to America, the growing need for farming, and of the numerous and wide variety of opportunities that exist in the broad field of agriculture for young men who have a background of farm experience and training.

IN MINNESOTA this could be quite a thing. In the last annual state FFA report, 14,236 members averaged an investment of $519 per member. Just to show how big FFA is in Minnesota, which could probably justifiably be called a "typical" state, sweep over these figures:

Over 10,446 members owned one or more productive enterprises. Sixty-seven of Minnesota's 284 FFA chapters operated a school farm and 21 chapters operated a school forest. Chapter-owned equipment was rented out to 82 chapters. Livestock chain rings were used in 82 chapters, providing a substantial building ground for future farm operations.

Community-wide safety programs were conducted by 181 chapters. Ninety-three chapters sponsored fairs or livestock shows.

Joint membership in 4-H clubs is heavy, with 27 percent of all FFA boys being 4-H members also.

"Living to serve," part of the FFA creed has developed these activities: Nearly 125 individual farm implement units have been gathered and repaired for the "Self Help" overseas program and more than 100,000 persons have been contacted in anti-smoking campaigns.

FFA's activities are designed to help develop rural leadership and good citizenship, and to stimulate the students to better achievement in their study and work toward successful establishment in farming or other agricultural occupations.

Future Farmers choose the week of George Washington's birthday each year for FFA Week. Washington's first love was the farm. He was one of the first in the nation to practice contour planting, crop rotations, fertilization and other soil conservation and improvement practices.

Ada Farmer Wins Young Farmer Award in Minnesota

THIEF RIVER FALLS, Minn. — Ronald Baker, 35, a registered Hereford breeder and grain farmer with over 800 acres in his farming operations, from Ada, Norman County, Saturday was named as Minnesota's Outstanding Young Farmer.

He will compete in the national OYF program April 3-5 at Birmingham, Ala. The second place winner was Richard Fox, Rosemount, Third place went to Phillip Parsons, Northfield.

Rushford Co-op Volume Declines; Larson Renamed

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special) —Patrons of the Rushford Cooperative Creamery received payments of $1,208,976 in 1965, in addition to $19,350 in patronage equities returned.

Milk sales totaled $1,174,041, and sweet cream sales $20,901. Operating expenses totaled $64,721.

The creamery received 34,987,905 pounds of milk in 1965, down about 1,500,000 pounds from 1964. Butter manufactured during the year totaled 46,285 pounds, down sharply from the 1964 butter total of 71,365 pounds.

These figures were announced Saturday at the co-op's annual meeting. About 500 attended the noon lunch and meeting.

Irving Larson was re-elected president for a three-year term. Stryk Isbeg Jr. was elected to a two-year directorship, replacing Alvin Vogen, all of Rushford.

Other officers are: Carroll O. Colbenson, vice president; Eimons Kjos, treasurer, and Joseph McManimon, secretary, all of Rushford.

Tri-County Oil To Meet Feb. 26

RUSHFORD, Minn. (Special) — Four directors of the Tri-County Cooperatives Oil Association will be elected at the association's annual meeting here Feb. 26 at 10 a.m. at the high school auditorium.

Three will be elected to three-year terms to replace the expired directorship of John Kahoun, Rushford; Clarence Rustad, Peterson, and Herman Forsyth, Houston. One will be for two years to fill the unexpired term of Jerome Agrimson, who has died.

Board chairman Kahoun said the program will include reports of officers, entertainment, guest speaker, noon luncheon and a movie for the children.

ACP Signup Begins In Winona County

LEWISTON, Minn.—The 1966 Agricultural Conservation Program has been approved for Winona County and signup has begun at the ASCS office, according to Anthony Heim, chairman of the county committee.

Heim said approval of the only 1966 practice not yet approved—woodland fencing—is expected soon. Signup there is delayed.

Trempealeau Electric Co-op Unit to Meet

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — The district committee conference of the Trempealeau Electric Cooperative has been set for Monday in the Willie Wire-hand Room of the Trempealeau Electric Coop building here. Three committeemen from each of the 24 districts have been selected by membership ballot.

Activities and the financial operations of the cooperative for the past year will be reviewed. District committeemen will also make recommendations for any changes in the bylaws or articles of incorporation for annual action which will be held March 19 at Gale-Eitrick High School.

Committeemen from director districts 6, 8 and 9 will be nominating candidates for the board of directors to be elected at the annual meeting. Directors whose terms expire at the annual meeting are: Henry Kopp, Galesville, district 6, towns of Trempealeau, Dodge and Caledonia; LaVerne Kleinsmith, Holmen, district 8, towns of Holland, Farmington, and Hamilton, La Crosse County, and the town of North Bend in Jackson County, and Conrad P. Hanson, Onalaska, district 9, town of Onalaska.

Harvey Schermerhorn, past director of public relations for Wisconsin Electric Cooperative will be speaker.

The cooperatives added 84 new services during 1965 and was serving 3,581 member-owners at year end on more than 1,200 miles of distribution line.

Kilowatt hour sales were up 9.1 percent over the prior year, reaching record sales of 45,051,000 KWH. To handle the increased load, six miles of new heavy three-phase feeder lines were built and a new substation was put in service at Hegg in October.

Committeemen for this area are: District 5A and 5B, Lambert Walski, Ernest Pierzina and Harold Lecher, all of Arcadia; District 5C, Spencer Hanson, Elmo Stuelin, Blair and Nic Jensen, Arcadia; District 6A, Angus Andre, Bensel Haines and Donald Forsythe, all of Arcadia; District 6B, Gerhard Nilsetuen, Ernest E. Sobotta, and Percival Rhude, all of Arcadia; District 6C, Melvin Omsrud, Arcadia; Roman Tuschner, Galesville, and Arnold Folke-dahl, Eitrick.

Fillmore Hog Show Tuesday

PRESTON, Minn. — The schedule for the Fillmore County Hog Show Tuesday at the Lanesboro Sales Commission has been announced.

Entries are due by 10 a.m. The judging contest between Houston and Fillmore County hog producers begins at 11 a.m. Judging of live pen and individual swine entries begins at 1 p.m.

All animals will be bought on a grade and yield basis starting at 50 cents over the Feb. 22 market. Weights of hogs must be between 200 and 240 pounds. About $100 in prizes will be given.

A meat packing company will provide services necessary for carcass information and evaluation for scheduled events which will demonstrate the value of the meat type hog.

Entries can be reported at the county extension office of the nearest buying station.

Spring Grove FFA

SPRING GROVE, Minn. — Parents, guests and FFA members will receive recognition and awards at the annual FFA banquet here Tuesday. The banquet will be held at the high school.

Tickets are available from any FFA member.

Barrow Show Opens Today At Albert Lea

ALBERT LEA, Minn. — The 1966 Minnesota State Spring Barrow Show begins here today. Nearly 1,000 barrows were expected.

Open Division individual barrows will be judged Friday, as well as junior division pens of three. Trucklot classes will be judged Saturday.

The quality pork carcass contest will be held immediately following the show. The carcass contest has proven to be an excellent place for producers to obtain carcass cutout information, breeding programs, and to participate in the breed certification program.

Carcass champions will be selected by Robert Rust, meat specialist, Iowa State University; C. J. Christians, swine specialist, University of Minnesota; Emmett Stevermer, swine specialist, Iowa State University, and Dick Halverson, Wilson & Co., Albert Lea.

Heading up the 1966 Market Hog judging contest will be Al Christian, Iowa State University, Ames, Iowa; Eugene Leiman, Farm Best, Dennison, Iowa, and Robert Jacobs, University of Minnesota.

Approximately $3,000 in premiums, along with many special breed association awards and other trophies will be awarded to exhibitors at the 1966 show. Premiums will be paid through 20 places in the carcass class; 15 places in the trucklot classes and 10 places in the pen and individual classes.

Special feature attractions at the show this year will be a swine producers clinic, junior and adult market hog judging contest and a pork carcass and cut display.

Fillmore County DHIA to Meet

PRESTON, Minn. — The Fillmore County DHIA will elect two directors and give official recognition to county dairymen high producing cows and herds Monday at 1:30 p.m. at the group's annual meeting at Preston Town Hall.

The county DHIA will award a trophy to the dairyman owning the cow which has produced the most butterfat during her

54.5 Pound Average Tops Wabasha DHIA

WABASHA, Minn. — Paul and Jim Gohl, Lake City, Central Unit, own the highest average producing herd in December Wabasha County DHIA records. Their 40 Holsteins averaged 1,378 pounds of milk and 54.5 pounds of fat. High individual cow belongs to Donald Grulke, Zumbro Falls, North Unit. His No. 9 Holstein produced 2,500 pounds of milk and 117.6 pounds of fat.

Simons Win Premier Trophy

LEWISTON, Minn. — Alvin and Elmer Simon, Altura, received the Premier Dairy trophy Monday at the Winona County DHIA annual meeting. The trophy is given for the highest three-year butterfat average of county herds on DHIA test.

Simons' three-year average, from registered Holsteins, was 15,101 pounds of milk, 3.77 percent butterfat test and 569 pounds of butterfat. Their 1965 average was 574 pounds of fat, highest in the county.

COUNTY officers of 1965 were re-elected for 1966. They are Elmer Simon, president; Earl Wachholz, Stockton, vice president, and Russell Wirt, Lewiston, secretary. Arnold Burfeind, Lewiston, is bookkeeper and treasurer.

Allen Aarsvold, Peterson, was elected to replace Cullen Pierce, Utica, on the board of directors. Wirt, Allen Aldinger, Winona, and Lester Luehmann, Altura, were re-elected. Other board members are Kenneth Rupprecht and John Stock, St. Charles, and Nick Meisch, Minniska.

Two hundred eighteen herds were on test in the county on Feb. 1. Of this total, 162 were on regular test and 56 on owner-sampler.

Average 1965 butterfat production for all county cows on test was 450 pounds. This is an increase of six pounds from 1964 and 112 pounds from 10 years ago. Milk production averaged 12,052 pounds, as compared to 11,811 in 1964 and 9,451 in 1955.

THE COUNTY had 7,871 cows on test in 1965, a substantial drop from the 1964 total of 8,942 and 1963 total of 8,202. In 1955, 2,905 cows were on DHIA test in Winona County.

Second and third highest producing herds belong to Allen Aldinger and Schreiber Brothers, Winona. Their Holstein herds averaged 565 pounds of fat.

For herds on DHIA central processing, average production was nearly 100 pounds of milk and 5 pounds of fat below the state average. Production marks were 11,850 pounds and 443 pounds for the county and 11,947 and 448 for the state.

Thirty-six herds averaged 500 pounds or better.

ALLEN Aarsvold had the only 1,000-pound butterfat cow. His Moonshine, a 6-year-old Holstein, gave 1,030 pounds of fat and 24,620 pounds of milk. In the county, 45 cows produced 700 or more pounds of butterfat.

Guy Smith's herd, Houston, topped the return-over-feed-cost list. His Brown Swiss herd returned $371 above feed cost. Next on the list was Howard Anderson, Altura, with $366 and Schreiber Brothers, Winona, with $361.

Average returns over feed cost ranged from $221 in Unit 4 to $282 in Unit 5.

Ralph Wayne, University of Minnesota extension dairyman, spoke about feed supply adjustments for good production in poor crop years and pointed out the value of testing for records.

Eyota Creamery Income Rises

EYOTA, Minn. — Leonard Hammel and Arthur Allen were re-elected to three-year directorships and the same slate of officers were returned to office Saturday at the Eyota Farmer's Cooperative Creamery annual meeting and board reorganization.

Officers are: Richard Brennan, president; Clarence Bierbaum, vice president; Ray Schnell, secretary, and Allen, treasurer. Other directors are Leonard Hammel, Kirk Murray and Francis Brennan, all of Eyota.

Total income from dairy products totaled $1,121,316 in 1965, a new record. Net profits were $19,805. Butter produced totaled 1,149,498 pounds.

Floyd Thompson, executive secretary of Minnesota Dairy Products Association, spoke.

Princess Kay, Mary Ann Tittler, served milk at the dinner and spoke at the meeting about her reign and the dairy industry.

Fire Prevention Poster Contest Set in Minnesota

CALEDONIA, Minn. — A fire prevention poster contest built around "Keep Minnesota Green" is now open to all Minnesota 4-H youth.

Posters should emphasize causes of forest fires, damage caused by fires and prevention of forest fires, says Russell Knech, Houston County agent. Posters, 11 by 14 inches, must be submitted to the County extension office by April 1. Name, age, address, 4-H club and county should be printed on the back of the poster.

One county winner will be selected from three age groups — 9 to 11, 12 to 14, and 15 to 19.

A-G Cooperative Sales Set Record

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — Three directors will be elected at the A-G Cooperative annual meeting Saturday.

Nominees for the replacements are Robert Gilbertson, Joe Rossa Jr., Marcel Feltes, John Rumpel, Aaron Pronschinske and Angus Andre.

The three to be replaced are Albert Pronschinski Jr., Myron Scow and Ralph Weisenberger. Pronschinski is currently vice president and Weisenberger is secretary.

The meeting will be in the Arcadia High School auditorium beginning at 10:30 a.m.

GROSS SALES at the A-G Cooperative during 1965 totaled $12,366,000, highest in A-G history.

The $12.3 million in gross sales for all four departments of the A-G Cooperative, creamery, hatchery, broiler and feed — compares with $11.7 million grossed in 1964. Net earnings for 1965 were $265,624 compared with $225,586 a year ago, an increase of $41,038.

Current assets are listed at $830,878 against $530,083 in current liabilities.

Gross sales from the CREAMERY operation totaled $4,067,890 during 1965 compared with $4,707,187 a year ago. Net earnings were $88,668, down from $120,283 in 1964 a decrease of $31,614.

The flow of milk at the creamery was down during 1965, as is has been across the state and nation as a whole. The creamery purchased 56.3 million pounds of whole milk during 1965, down from 63 million in 1964; 35.4 million pounds of grade B bulk milk compared with 37.2 million in 1964, and 46.7 million pounds of skim milk compared with 49.6 million in 1964. It produced 3,961,023 pounds of butter in 1965, 203,896 pounds less than the 4,164,919 in 1964.

Average price paid for 3.5 percent milk in cans was $3.21 per hundredweight compared with $3.12 a year ago. Average price paid for 3.5 percent B bulk milk was $3.35 a hundredweight, up from $3.28 in 1964.

BROILER AND egg sales totaled $4,391,716 during 1965, up from $3,797,870 during 1964. Net earnings rose to $58,965, an increase of $2,415. Exactly 16,654,062 pounds of broilers were processed in 1965 compared with 14,476,496 in 1964.

THE FEED and seed department had gross sales of $2,942,224, an increase of $30,599 over the $2,411,625 in 1964. Net earnings rose to $89,924 from $61,238, and increase of $28,686. The new mill which has completed its first full year of operation has proved to be a sound venture, according to A. C. Schultz, general manager. It would be impossible to process the volume of feed required with the capacity of the old mill, he pointed out.

HATCHERY OPERATIONS added another $964,170 to gross sales, compared with $868,603 in 1964. Net earnings more than tripled to $29,966 compared to $9,415 a year ago. A total of 5,503,320 chicks were hatched in 1965. This is an increase of 644,491 over the 4,858,829 hatched in 1964.

A total of $1,183 of the earnings will be distributed as 7 percent dividends on capital stock and $265,441 will go into the patrons' equity reserve account.

HOLDOVER officers and directors are Lee Wieland, president;

'Modern Math' Series Offers Booklet for Parents' Know-How

Feel frustrated when Johnny brings home his New Math homework?

Are "off base numerals," and "sets," and "modular arithmetic" still mysteries to you?

Then you won't want to miss the series starting Monday in this newspaper on "Modern Math for Puzzled Parents."

Written by Prof. W. F. Lloyd, an expert who has made a specialty of explaining the new system to adults, it tells the essentials in ten easy-to-understand articles. There are explanatory problems, and at the end a test so that you can size up your own progress.

See this newspaper Monday for "Modern Math for Puzzled Parents."

Later, if you want the series in booklet form, send 50 cents each for as many booklets as you desire to "Modern Math" in care of this newspaper.

GLENN GEARING, Jackson County, Wis., is president of the board of Tri-State Breeders Co-op for 1966. MARVIN PASSOW, Alma, is a member of the executive board. WILLIAM MILLER, Fillmore County; HARLAN INGVALSON, Houston County; FRANCIS SAM, Pepia County; BYRON BERG, Trempealeau County, and WALTER CLOW, Winona County, are all members of the Tri-State executive committee which meets every other month. RAINER KLUG, Caledonia, Minn., is a member of the Brown Swiss sire selection committee.

Food expenditures hit an all-time high for $85 billion during 1965. That's up 7.6 percent from the $79 billion spent in 1964 and nearly 8 times the $10.8 billion total spent by Americans in 1933. But disposable income rose even higher. As a result, Americans spent an all-time low of 18.2 percent of their disposable income for food in 1965. This compares to 18.5 percent in 1964 and 24.0 percent in 1933.

New officers of the ARCADIA, Wis., Stars 4-H Club are Celeste Chitko, president; Robert Wozney, vice president; Beverly Chitko, secretary; Kathy Sossula, treasurer, and Robert Schutz, reporter. The club is sponsored by St. Stanislaus Church.

Important management discussions for this time of year are seed selection, fertilizer and chemical purchases. When buying seed, check for germination, purity and adaptability, says MATT METZ, Wabasha County agent. Use fertilizer according to your soil needs. In chemical purchases watch for tolerances to the crop to be used and for tolerances in regard to human and animal consumption. The material is all on the label. Read it carefully.

Modern Math—No. 9

Numbers Go Round

By PROF. W. F. LLOYD
University of Tampa

Fourth graders studying the New Math bring home some arithmetic problems that cause consternation among parents not in the know. These deal with a totally different kind of numbers. With them we cannot say that 9 is larger than 2; we cannot say that 9 in the morning is later than 2 in the afternoon.

Parents will see statements like $8+5=13$, $3-9=-6$, $8 \times 5 = 4$, or division problems that do not have a unique answer as in the case of $3 \div 2$, where the answer may be 1 or 5 or 9.

This is Modular Arithmetic, more commonly known as Clock Arithmetic. The numbers are modular numbers or clock numbers. The problem $8+5=13$ is not at all strange when you translate it to mean that a worker reporting at 8 o'clock and working 5 hours will knock off at 1 o'clock.

We can say loosely that modular numbers are the numbers the hour hand points to as it rotates around the dial. Thus our numbers go round and round, and we count 12, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 1, 2, 3, ...

Notice when we get to 12 we start over with 1 and do not go on to 13.

While there is no number larger than 12 on a clock face, we can relate any integer, however large, to a clock number. Remember we define clock numbers as the number the hour hand points to. At 14 hours after midnight the clock hand will point to 2. It will also point to 2 at 28 hours after midnight. There must be some relation between 2, 14, and 28.

We define this relationship as congruence, and say that 2 is congruent to 14 and 2 is congruent to 28. This is a unique feature of modular numbers. They are not really single numbers but sets of numbers. Every number on the dial is congruent to itself plus 12, or to itself plus any multiple of 12. (5 is congruent to 17, 29, 41, 53, ...)

Congruence is shown by a sign similar to the equal sign but having three parallel lines instead of two. The typewriter (and most newspaper type fonts) do not contain this symbol so I will use the equal sign (=) to mean congruence.

For convenience let us work with Modulo 5. This calls for us

CONGRUENCE TABLES MODULO 5

\times	0	1	2	3	4
0	0	0	0	0	0
1	0	1	2	3	4
2	0	2	4	1	3
3	0	3	1	4	2
4	0	4	3	2	1

$+$	0	1	2	3	4
0	0	1	2	3	4
1	1	2	3	4	0
2	2	3	4	0	1
3	3	4	0	1	2
4	4	0	1	2	3

to visualize a new clock face. Imagine a clock face with 0 at the top, in the place traditionally occupied by 12, and the numbers 1, 2, 3, and 4 equally spaced around the dial. (The hour hand makes a complete revolution in 5 hours.) Thus we will count 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 0, 1, 2, ... (Notice, no 5s).

Clocking a Problem

This new clock face causes new congruence relations. Now we find congruent numbers by adding 5 or a multiple of 5. Thus $0 \equiv$ (remember everytime you see an equal sign in this article say congruent) 5, 10, 15, 20, ...; $2 \equiv 7, 12, 17, 22, \dots$ etc.

We can perform our operations with these numbers by using this table below or by utilizing the congruence relation. Modular addition may be defined as "the process of determining the final position of the hand after it has been moved from 0 to the number indicated by the first number in the problem and then advanced the number of hours indicated by the second number in the problem."

This sounds complicated but is really very simple, to add $3+4$ in Modulo 5, just start at 0, then move the hand to 3, then advance it 4 more hours and it will come to rest on 2. Thus $3+4=2$.

You have a choice of three methods of working this problem: First, you can visualize the movements, or sketch the clock and draw the movement; second you can use the table above; third you can employ congruence relation, $3+4$ always equals 7 in ordinary experience, but 7 is congruent to 2 (Modulo 5) so write $3+4=2$.

Some Practical Applications. The same three choices exist in multiplication. To multiply 3×4 in Modulo 5, visualize the hand moving from 0 to 3 then being moved ahead 3 hours at a time for a total of 4 moves, finally coming to rest at 2. The table shows $3 \times 4 = 2$ directly. The congruence relationship can be used thus: $3 \times 4 = 12$ (Remember to read the — as congruent) but 12 is congruent to 2, therefore $3 \times 4 = 2$.

Subtraction is the inverse of addition so it involves counter-clockwise movement of the hands, and inverse use of the table. In the example $3-4$ the congruence relation can be used conveniently. Because we think of 4 as larger than 3 we can use 8, the next number congruent to 3 and make the problem $8-4=4$, thus $3-4=4$ (Modulo 5). Of course, in the case of $4-3=1$ straight arithmetic suffices.

Congruence is also convenient in division. In the problem $2 \div 3$ we try successive numbers congruent to 2 until we find one that is divisible by 3. Thus $2 \div 3 = 4$ because $3 \times 4 = 12 \equiv 2$.

In modular arithmetic we can use only integers. Fractions do not exist, so division problems must come out even or not at all.

A return to Modulo 12 as used in the early part of this article will bring out some interesting facts about division. Use the congruence relation in the problem that was given earlier, $3 \div 5 = 1$ or 5 or 9. It comes out like this: $3 \div 5 = 1$ — $15 \div 5 = 3$ — $5 \div 5 = 1$ so we are beginning to repeat our answers and can stop.

When the modulus is divisible by one of the numbers on the clockface we have a situation where some division problems do not have unique answers. Some have no answer. When the modulus cannot be divided by any number on the clock face the division problems have unique answers.

This modular arithmetic has practical applications. Problems dealing with days of the week are Modulo 7. Problems dealing with months of the year are Modulo 12 problems.

The big virtue of this topic is that it demonstrates the existence of a totally different kind of number, but one which obeys the Commutative, the Associative, and Distributive Laws. The fundamental operations are defined as in regular arithmetic. It is a device to broaden the student's knowledge and appreciation of numbers. (Next: Test Yourself)

'Americanization' In Foreign Aid Called Mistake

It's a mistake to try to "Americanize" underdeveloped and war-torn countries when we try to help them, a Winona State College fraternity was told Tuesday evening.

Dr. Richard Smith of the education faculty said that the problem for Americans is to try to see the problems and possible solutions from the viewpoint and culture of the citizens of the country.

This approach is an important one, said Dr. Smith, not only in the countries themselves but also in classrooms in the United States.

He told Gamma Tau Chapter, Kappa Delta Phi, that he's not concerned about losing the military battle in Viet Nam but there is cause for concern about success in the solution of social problems.

Dr. Smith reviewed the historical development of foreign aid, relating it to foreign policy and education.

Nine new members were initiated into the chapter in a ceremony in Kryzsko Commons. They are: Daniel Cavanaugh, Winona; Charles Evans, Houston; Ann Fennedy, Rushford; Catherine Lindsay, Spring Valley, and Mary Redig, Winona. A dozen alumni attended. The meeting was followed by a banquet.

Scout Program
Planned at Blair
For March 12

BLAIR, Wis. (Special) — Plans for Scout-O-Rama at the Blair High School gym March 12 were made by the Boy Scout committee meeting in the Northern States Power Co. building Thursday night.

Paul Wechter, Whitehall, Buffalo-Decorah District executive, said American Legion Post 231 will get an award for sponsoring the complete Scouting program.

Scoutmaster William Duffield reviewed activities. Troop 52 grew from 16 to 22. Fourteen were in summer camp and 18 attended winter camp. All 22 plan to attend camp in 1966.

The troop committee, comprised of the Rev. K. M. Uberg, Don Huibregtse, Dr. O. M. Schneider, Arthur Galstad, Richard Johnson, Jerome Mattison and Arnold Thorpe, commended Duffield.

This Girl Is Lost in Shuffle

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My friend, Mary, met John five years ago. They fell deeply in love. John told Mary that he had been separated from his wife for 25 years and had no intention of divorcing and remarrying. Mary gave up all her social contacts to devote her time and attention exclusively to John. John also told Mary that two nights each week he had to entertain a girl friend of long standing for whom he had great compassion, but to whom he couldn't reveal the fact that he was in love with Mary. Mary is heartbroken and feels she cannot share John with another woman. How can this be worked out?

PUZZLED

ABBY

DEAR "PUZZLED": If you will pardon me, I am "puzzled" as to why you are trying to help "heartbroken Mary" work out an adulterous dilemma with a swinger like John. As I see it, the only thing John "deeply loves" is his appetite for femmes. So tell Mary she can't win in this game because John is holding all the aces, plus two queens. And the old curmudgeon is probably dealing from the bottom.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know who thought up that "show and tell" idea but it's time someone put a stop to it. In case you've never heard of it, the teacher asks her pupils to bring an interesting object to school and tell the class about it. She urges them to bring something unusual, that the other kids have never seen before, so you can imagine how frightening the possibilities are.

Abby, I always thought teachers were paid to teach kids what's in the books, not to encourage them to bring stuff from home and run off at the mouth about it. Youngsters don't always have the best judgment, you know.

Well, last Halloween my husband went to a costume party dressed as Mae West. This morning the teacher called to tell me that our seven-year-old son had brought a pair of size 44 "falsies" to show the class what his FATHER wore under his DRESS! See what I mean?

AGAINST SHOW AND TELL

DEAR ABBY: The other evening my husband and I attended a dinner party for four couples at the home of some friends. The hostess went all out to set a lovely table, using fresh flowers and candles. When we sat down we were horrified to see the plates in front of us covered with dust thick enough to draw pictures on! All the other guests noticed it, but no one said anything. I can't understand how the host and hostess missed it. We all ate off those dusty plates, but it wasn't easy knowing that germs live in dust. Would you have eaten off those plates, Abby? How could the hostess have been told without embarrassment?

LOOKING BACK

DEAR LOOKING: Dust "thick enough to draw pictures on" is too thick to ignore. I would have promptly (and privately) called the hostess' attention to the oversight. She would have appreciated it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "ET'ALPH": In my opinion, there is only ONE sensible reason for a wife to leave her husband. And that's because SHE wants to be rid of HIM.

Snowmobile Derby Slated

MONDOVI, Wis. (Special) — A Sno-Mobile Derby roundup has been scheduled for the area of Don's Supper Club and Bowling Lanes one mile north of Mondovi on Highway 37 March 5 and 6.

The sport is being opened on what is described as the "finest, toughest, natural closed course in the heart of Sno-Mobile area."

Events will start March 5 at 11 a.m. They will include closed course, flat track and hill climb events, plus all classes.

These and a power puff derby will be the Sunday events, also starting at 11 a.m.

Three classes may enter: 8-, 10- and 14-horsepower, factory stock only.

3 GOP Caucuses Held at Mabel

MABEL, Minn. (Special) — Seven delegates to the Fillmore County Republican convention at Preston March 19 were elected at the party caucuses of Mabel village and Newburg and Preble townships at the American Legion hall here Thursday.

Melvin Landin, Knute V. Haggen and Odell Lee, Jr., were elected from Mabel; Vernon Erickson and Sen. Lew Larson from Newburg, and J. B. Gjerdum from Preble.

Resolutions were adopted favoring Rep. Albert Quile's reelection to Congress, Douglas M. Head for attorney general and Harold LeVander for governor. Harold Karli was meeting chairman.

Red Wing Company Buys Wabasha Firm

WABASHA, Minn. — Wilson Oil Co., Red Wing, recently purchased the Riverside Oil Co., with stations here and at Kellogg.

The owner of Riverside Oil since 1937, M. H. Johnson, announced the sale of property Feb. 7 to W. R. Wilson and his son, Martin. Wilson Oil presently has two service stations and a bulk plant at Red Wing, all handling Pure Oil products.

Voice of the Outdoors

Carp, the "bad guys" of freshwater fishing areas, have been declared an enemy of sport fishing in Wisconsin. War on these spotters of natural waters has been declared jointly by the State Conservation Commission, the Wisconsin State Legislature and the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation (WARF). The declaration came in the form of a contract awarded by the conservation commission to WARF to perform research and development aimed at finding ways to clear Wisconsin lakes, ponds, streams and rivers of one of the state's most serious sport fishing problems.

Carp-infested ponds and lakes, according to fishery biologists, are sooner or later unable to support a healthy balance of aquatic life. Rapidly multiplying carp stir up the mud on the bottoms and turn bodies of water into a dark, opaque brown that bars the passage of sunlight necessary for healthy growing conditions. Without sun, subsurface foods needed by more desirable species such as panfish and bass become scarce, the balance of nature is upset, and soon the panfish and bass are stunted or even nonexistent. At this point, fishermen pack up their rods and files and look elsewhere for fishing excitement.

Turbid waters also seriously reduce the natural vegetation on which wild ducks are accustomed to feed, and thereby cut down the population of these birds as well. Add to all this that carp don't make very good fishing, are not a popular food fish, and can contaminate a pond or lake in a single season, and the reasons for controlling them are even more compelling.

On the other hand, when carp are eliminated, the water usually becomes clear within a few days, other species of fish are able to grow and multiply, and sport fishing becomes a great deal more rewarding. The control of carp in fishing waters, therefore, will be a boon to freshwater fishermen everywhere, since the carp problem is common to almost every area of the United States.

According to Ward Ross, managing director of WARF, the attack on Wisconsin carp will utilize antimycin, a new chemical weapon discovered at the University of Wisconsin. Antimycin is a specific toxicant against certain kinds of rough fish. The compound is so active against carp that it takes only one ounce of the chemical to eliminate not only the carp, but even the carp eggs, in a million gallons of water. At this concentration it has little effect on plankton, insect or mammalian life, and it degrades so rapidly that the treated water can usually be restocked within a week with more desirable species of fish.

The research contract, which is to run until 1967, was awarded to WARF by the Wisconsin Conservation Commission, headed by Commissioner James Smay, La Crosse, under the provisions of a special appropriation by the Wisconsin legislature for carp control research. It was pointed out by Dr. Edward Schenberger, superintendent of the Conservation Department's research and planning division, that the objectives of the program are to test and perfect methods of eliminating carp from Wisconsin lakes, ponds, streams and rivers, and thus make it possible to renovate these waters. The eventual application of these methods to large scale control of carp is to follow the research and development phase.

Ross stated that WARF's research and development program will be conducted without financial profit to the foundation and will be coordinated under the direction of James E. Powers of the WARF development division. Cooperation will be given by fishery biologists of the Wisconsin Conservation Department and the fish control laboratory of the U. S. Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife located in La Crosse, Wis. Robert Lennon, director of the fish control laboratory has a wide experience with the use of antimycin in fish management, having supervised its experimental use throughout the past three years in Nebraska, Arkansas, Georgia, Wyoming, New Hampshire, New York, and Wisconsin. He describes antimycin as "one of the more promising fishery tools, and its potentials have only been touched."

A state wide survey is now being conducted to locate experimental sites.

Taylor Scouts Receive Awards

TAYLOR, Wis. (Special) — Awards were presented to Boy Scouts by Ray Steuermann, Elmer, Buffalo-Decorah District chairman, at the annual blue and gold banquet at Taylor Lutheran Church Thursday night.

Steuermann also talked to the group. Advancements were presented to Kent Olson, who moved from Webelos to scouting; Jaydean Casper, to first class; Mark Bloomfield, second class, and Richard Halverson, Randy Joten, Larry Stensven, Roger Morden and Fred Colwell to tenderfoot.

Merit badges were presented to Jaydean Casper, Blaine Koxien, Ronnie Joten, and Bruce Toxen and George Everson.

Alvin Relyea, Taylor, neighborhood commissioner, presented the awards to these cubs: Keith and Alan Lien, Mitchell and Dennis Neff, David Berg, Kent Olson, Eldon Simonsen, Lief Olson, Roger Osegaard, Jeffrey Kling, Terry Doe and Michael Christinger.

Alfred Amundson is Scoutmaster; Merlin Jotel, assistant, and Robert Olson, Cubmaster.

Plainview Cash Position Up During 1965

PLAINVIEW, Minn. (Special) — The financial statement of Eugene Ferk, village clerk, was accepted by the Plainview Village Council Monday night.

It showed receipts of $342,835 for the year and disbursements of $324,922. The clerk's balance at the beginning of the year was $48,495 and on Dec. 1, $66,458.

GENERAL FUND receipts of $33,040 included $23,140 in general property taxes; liquor and cigarette apportionment, $5,718; local licenses and permits, $1,067, and fines, $601. General fund disbursements totaled $44,573. They included $840 for mayor and trustee salaries; $500 each for two assessors, Millard Fisk and Donald Carpenter; $600 in attorney fees for A. A. Burkhardt; $2,976 for deputy clerk's salaries; $698 village hall salaries; $2,304, police expense; $8,187, police wages, and some $14,000 in street and alley wages and expenses.

Liquor store sales of beer and liquor totaled $115,086, an increase from $96,000 in 1964. Net income from the liquor store rose from $14,000 in 1964 to $25,000 last year. Liquor store expenses included $18,365 for wages and $69,764 for merchandise.

Water fund receipts were $21,334 and disbursements, $20,984, of which $10,000 was a transfer to the general fund. Sewer fund receipts were $9,782 and expenses, $9,842.

OF LIBRARY fund receipts of $1,760, $1,560 was from taxes and $41 in memorials. Disbursements included $1,245 in wages.

Cemetery fund receipts were $2,891. Disbursements totaled $3,500, of which $3,050 was for wages and $450, operating expenses.

taled $7,723 and included $685 for fire runs, $228 for water delivery, and $6,810, rural fire truck fund. Disbursements of $10,550 included $6,991 in capital outlay, payment on a note, and operating expenses.

Receipts of the park fund were $3,628 and operating expenses, $1,234.

For its street improvement project, the village received $4,200 in state aid and $13,320 in special assessments, plus $1,400 as interest on bond issue funds invested in treasury bills, and $30,202 from taxes. A total of $42,001 was paid in bond retirement and interest.

FIREMAN'S relief fund receipts were $1,713, including $596 in tax levy and $1,117 in 2 percent insurance premiums.

The permanent care receipts last year for the cemetery fund totaled $1,047. The fund for the permanent care and improvement of the cemetery now is $32,000.

A total of $30,000 was paid on outstanding indebtedness last year—$25,000 on street improvement bonds and $5,000 on $90,000 in bonds issued in 1965 to build the new liquor store. Outstanding indebtedness at the end of the year was $565,000 at the end of 1965—$480,000 on street improvement bonds and $85,000 on liquor store bonds. With these payments, street improvement indebtedness dropped from $505,000.

J. A. ECKSTEIN presented the summer recreation program for the year. The village contribution toward salaries of director and assistant will drop from $1,500 paid last year to $1,236 this year because the school district will pay a larger portion.

Eckstein asked the village to consider having the recreational department operate the pool, being responsible both to the board of education and council.

He discussed the possibility of Red Cross swimming instructions here. The children have been commuting to Wabasha for swimming and instructions.

Mabel Scout Banquet

MABEL, Minn. (Special) — The annual Boy Scout banquet sponsored by the Lions Club will be held at Mabel First Lutheran Church Monday at 7 p.m. Edward Fiksdal, Rochester, president of the Gamehaven Council, will speak. Roy Butler, executive of the council, will present club charters. Pastor Bruce Boyce of the church will be master of ceremonies. Scouts, Cubs, leaders and den mothers will be guests of the club. The banquet is open to the public.

Tuesday, they told police, they had taken a 10-piece set of wrenches and a "Hollywood" tail-pipe attachment from Miracle Mall. And they took a socket wrench from Valley Distributing Co., 107 Main St., that day as well, the three told police.

The three boys have been referred to juvenile authorities, Chief McCabe said. They cannot be identified because of their ages.

Milwaukee Coach Car Disabled; It's Left Behind

A local Milwaukee mail train, westbound, made an unscheduled 2-hour stop in Winona yards this morning.

Milwaukee officials said the generator drive on the train's single passenger coach was faulty. A crew was called from La Crosse but could not repair the apparatus so the car could proceed.

The car was set out and the train left at 10:59 a.m. It had arrived here at 9:06.

Several passengers were transferred to other railroads or buses, Milwaukee officials said.

LANESBORO, Minn. (Special) — Harlin Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Taylor, rural Lanesboro, has been awarded an Augsburg College Foundation fellowship of $2,400. Under its terms $600 will be applied to his tuition for four years beginning with the 1966-67 term. The announcement was made by John F. Clay, Lanesboro High School principal.

Three Youths Admit 2-Day Theft Spree

Police caught three juvenile boys Wednesday afternoon who admitted a two-day crime spree of shoplifting and car ransacking.

Chief James W. McCabe said that the trio was apprehended after one of their victims got part of the license number and a good description of the car they were driving about 2:25 p.m.

WILLIAM Wolfe, 647 Gilmore Ave., called police headquarters Wednesday at that time with the partial license number and the description of a car he said contained those who had just ransacked his car. The Wolfe car was parked in back of an East End tavern, the chief said.

Patrolman Glenn M. Morgan spotted the suspects' car soon after in the West End, and the three youths admitted ransacking Wolfe's car among others that day.

They were questioned at police headquarters by Patrolmen John R. Holubar and Paul G. Michalowski of the juvenile division. The three youths also admitted shoplifting Tuesday and Wednesday downtown and at two West End shopping centers.

All the stolen goods except a transistor radio reported missing by Wolfe were recovered, Chief McCabe said.

THE YOUTHS, aged 14, 16 and 17, had played hooky from school; and one of them was driving his father's car without permission (and without a driver's license) when the trio was apprehended, according to Chief McCabe.

The youths admitted taking a 12-volt battery from a car owned by Paul Rosinski, 1060 E. King St., which was parked with Wolfe's vehicle Wednesday afternoon. They denied taking anything from Wolfe's car, however.

They also admitted ransacking three cars in the parking lot of Community Memorial Hospital Wednesday afternoon. Only one of the three victims had reported anything missing by this morning, however.

John Loesch, 501 1/2 Center St., called police to report a wooden handled hunting knife and some shotgun shells missing from his car.

The youths told police that they had gotten a "car caddy" sun visor attachment, a pair of sunglasses and a dashboard, plug-in travel light from the other two cars parked at the hospital.

Also on Wednesday, they said, they took a soldering gun and two cans of spray paint from Miracle Mall and three cases of empty beer bottles from the rear of Randall's Super Valu at the Westgate Shopping Center.

Tuesday, they told police, they had taken a 10-piece set of wrenches and a "Hollywood" tail-pipe attachment from Miracle Mall. And they took a socket wrench from Valley Distributing Co., 107 Main St., that day as well, the three told police.

The three boys have been referred to juvenile authorities, Chief McCabe said. They cannot be identified because of their ages.

FEDERAL PROGRAM

Wisconsin Counties Organize for Action

WHITEHALL, Wis. (Special)

Under the community action program of the federal Office of Economic Opportunity, a four-county Western Dairyland Action Council was organized at the courthouse in Whitehall Wednesday afternoon.

The organization will be incorporated as a nonprofit group under the laws of Wisconsin and then will apply for the $207,000 available to this Area 7 group.

ERNEST Peterson, La Crosse, coordinator of community action programs in southwestern Wisconsin, said allotments to each county have been made according to population. Eau Claire County has been allotted $88,000; Trempealeau County, $53,000; Jackson County, $38,000, and Buffalo County, $27,000.

The allotments will be used to pay the salaries of a four-county director, assistant director, and clerk, plus other expenses of operation. Mrs. Mabel Skroch, Trempealeau County nurse, is chairman of the applications committee.

Progress is anticipated in two weeks toward mobilizing the resources of the counties to combat poverty and bring about a permanent increase in the capacity

Campbell Resigns at Winona State

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor

Dr. M. R. Raymond, Winona State College academic dean, today announced the resignation of Robert L. Campbell as athletic director and head basketball coach.

In subsequent action Raymond also made the announcement that physical education instructor and assistant basketball coach Ron Ekker would assume the head coaching position with the 1966-67 season.

Raymond also said that no decision regarding the appointment of Campbell's successor as athletic director would be made immediately.

Raymond explained that he and President Neil Minne had known Campbell was considering a position at California Lutheran and that they had discussed the appointment of Ekker.

"IT IS WITH regret and reluctance that we accept Dr. Campbell's resignation," said Raymond. "But we realize this is a move to better himself and we certainly can't stand in his way."

"At the same time we might add that Mr. Ekker has been highly recommended for the physical education department and Dr. Campbell. I have talked to many of the players and Mr. Ekker certainly has their support."

Campbell's resignation becomes effective with the end of the spring term at Winona State College June 10. He has assumed the position of physical education chairman and head basketball coach at California Lutheran College, a co-educational school of 900 students in Thousand Oaks, Calif.

CALIFORNIA Lutheran, an American Lutheran Church — Lutheran Church of America supported school, began operations in 1959 and began basketball competition in 1962. It is the only Lutheran-supported college in California.

"It is with mixed emotions that I and my family leave Winona," said Campbell. "We certainly have enjoyed our stay here. But the prospect of getting in on the ground floor of a new college, so to speak, presents a challenge. And, of course, the chairmanship in physical education presents quite an opportunity."

Campbell, 35, came to Winona as assistant athletic director and basketball coach in 1961. He assumed the athletic directorship at Winona State in the fall of 1962.

He and his wife, Dorothy, have two sons, Blake, 7, and Stuart, 5, and one daughter, Heather, 14 months. They live at 467 Main St. They will move to Thousand Oaks, a city located 60 miles northwest of Los Angeles in Southern California, in time for Campbell to assume summer school duties June 20.

TO DATE Campbell's Winona State teams have compiled a 45-67 record with games this season yet to be played with St. Cloud and Bemidji.

He is a Richland Center, Wis., High School graduate and obtained his bachelor of science degree at Wartburg College, Waverly, Iowa. He obtained master's and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Iowa. Before coming to Winona he was assistant professor of physical education at Wayne, Neb., State College.

Ekker, 31, returns to his alma mater. A 1952 graduate of Mabel, Minn., High School, he was graduated from Winona State in 1962. During the '61-'62 basketball season he served as assistant basketball coach to Campbell.

EKKER SPENT two years as head basketball coach at Cheboygan, Mich., High School, piloting that school's 1963-64 team to its first conference championship in 33 years.

During the 1964-65 school term he obtained a graduate assistantship at Wayne State where he received his master's degree. He also served as assistant basketball and baseball coach there. He then was named physical education instructor, assistant basketball and football coach at Winona State.

He is married to the former

LET'S TALK SPORTS

with Gary Evans

IT WAS RATHER EMBARRASSING to sit courtside at Winona High School Tuesday and watch Central coach Jerry Day dab blood from the head of Raider guard Terry Murphy.

The wound was made by a bee-see that sailed out of the balcony and struck Murphy just above his left eye. And it wasn't the only missile that wound up on the floor.

In fact, Day told WHS officials that if the practice didn't stop he would send his team home, game or no game.

The sad part here is that it certainly was not the work of the Winona team or anyone connected with the team.

But lest it happen again, we might point out several things to some of the "funny fellows."

• You aren't helping the team. These boys are good enough to win the games with no help from you "balcony botherers." All you can do is detract from their showing. And if that be the case, we remind you that all Hawk sports programs could use more participation. Why not channel some of that energy in a constructive direction?

• Did it ever occur to you that an object such as a bee-see could result in serious injury? Suppose Murphy had been struck in the eye? Or suppose the steel spheres had gone undetected and either a Raider or Hawk had injured an ankle? For a game that meant little, it could have been a serious price to pay.

• And, once again, the entire school body suffers for the actions of a very few.

Isn't it about time some of you began growing up? Remember, fellows, once you get out on your own that kind of stuff isn't tolerated. You learn in a hurry that inflicting personal injury is not a laughing matter. And you aren't going to be able to hide behind the mask of a crowd forever!

Wiltgen: 'Is Question of Rebounding'

By GARY EVANS
Daily News Sports Editor
The St. John's University basketball team that tonight comes calling at Terrace Heights is not blessed with overpowering size.

But with Joe Mucha, Tom Melancon and Thibodeau in the front line, the Johnnies will outsize St. Mary's.

THUS THE KEY becomes rebounding — something the St. John's unit does exceedingly well — for the contest scheduled for 8 p.m.

"This is the secret," said Coach Ken Wiltgen. "We have to stay with them on the boards. And they do one heckuva job. Of course, that's the name of the game."

The St. John's front-line trio measures 6-5 to the man. That means the Redmen must start the battle by giving away some height.

Rog Pytlewski will match in size whoever he is asked to defend and George Hoder won't be in serious trouble with an inch deficit. But Tom Keenan will spot one of the Johnnie forwards over two inches.

"BUT WE HAVE to rebound with them," emphasized Wiltgen. "When we get beat up there (74-65), it was the second and third shot that did it. I feel we can shoot with them, it's just a question of getting the job done on the boards."

Does the coach feel playing the game at home this time around will make a substantial difference?

"There is always some advantage to playing at home," he mused. "People are always talking about six-eight points. I really don't know. But it's nice not to have to travel and the crowd here is good for a little. At least we won't have the St. John's crowd against us. It's not a bad bunch, just noisy."

NANCY KANZ, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kanz of Lewiston, has been honored as 1966 queen of the North Central Association of Schools for the Blind cheerleading and wrestling tournament held in Columbus, Ohio.

Schools in the meet come from the states of South Dakota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Kansas, Missouri, Minnesota, Ohio, Nebraska and Kentucky.

Nancy captained the cheerleading team from the Minnesota Braille and Sightseeing School, Faribault, that placed second for the second consecutive year.

She is also active in band, church groups, student council, Junior Legion Auxiliary, is a reporter for her school paper and sophomore class secretary.

And Nancy, as one reporter to another, our congratulations and best wishes for continued success.

AGAINST ST. CLOUD SATURDAY

50-Percent Is Warrior Must

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

Traveling to St. Cloud's Eastman Hall to play basketball against the St. Cloud State Huskies has been compared with sending the Christians into the lion pit at the Colosseum.

St. Cloud, which has won outright or shared the Northern Intercollegiate Conference basketball title for seven of the last eight years, has won over 50 straight conference games at home.

This year the Huskies are 15-5 for the season and at their usual spot atop the NIC standings. And once again as usual, they are unbeaten at home in conference play.

This is the challenge that faces Winona State College Saturday as the Warriors travel northward.

Less than a week ago, the Warriors and Huskies squared off in an afternoon game at Memorial Hall and St. Cloud took a 72-60 decision. But the contest was in doubt until the last 1½ minutes. Winona trailed by only two at 62-60 at that juncture but in attempting to get the ball for the tying bucket, the Warriors allowed St. Cloud 10 easy points in the last 1½ minutes.

"I thought we played a real fine game except for that shooting spell in the second half," said coach Bob Campbell. "The kids did what we thought we had to do to stay with them. I just hope we have the same effort Saturday night."

"We won't prepare for them any differently than we did down here. It's just the same except there are a few more bleachers up there."

A harassing press that forced St. Cloud into 15 mechanical errors while Winona was only committing nine and a sticky defense was credited for Winona's fine, but losing, effort against the Huskies.

Freshman guard Rick Starzecki did a fine job of cutting off Terry Porter for the last 10 minutes of the second half and Mike Jerecek was credited with a fine job on 6-8 Izzy Schmeising.

"And the other kids did a fine job of dropping off on Schmeising, too," added Campbell.

But Winona's downfall was an ultra-cold second half shooting display.

In the first half the Warriors shot 57 percent and had a 38-33 lead at intermission, but in the final 20 minutes there average from the field dropped off to a miserable 28 percent. For the first 6½ minutes of the second half, Winona could come up with only one field goal.

So, according to Campbell, it will take the same kind of sterling ball-handling and defensive effort plus two consistent halves of shooting to snip the St. Cloud skid.

"If we could hit two 50-percent halves, we'll be in pretty good shape," stated Campbell.

FRIEND LARRY STAFFON, Lanesboro coach, drops us a note:

"This letter is not intended to take anything away from Preston, but I would like to clear up a few statistics that appeared in Sunday's paper pertaining to the Preston-Lanesboro game."

"The percentages of 60 for Preston and 44 for Lanesboro were not field goals but free throws. Both teams attempted 51 shots from the field. Preston made 23 for 45 percent and Lanesboro made 13 for 27 percent."

"At no time during the game did Lanesboro play 'slow down' ball. We trailed 42-22 early in the third quarter due to our own cold shooting and not because of ball control. We then outscored Preston 16-2 to trail only 44-38 with 5½ minutes remaining."

"Both teams had 29 rebounds and, although the score might indicate a 'slow down' game, we feel we played our best defensive ball of the year. Many times it took Preston longer to get a shot off than it did for Lanesboro."

ENGELHART EYES BETTER GAME

Rochester Now Lone Obstacle

It is a rather ironic situation: The defending Big Nine champion the only obstacle between a different team and the title.

But that is just the development as Winona High School prepares for its final trip of the year — a basketball junket to Rochester for a bout with John Marshall Friday night.

Kerwin Engelhart's Rockets, winners of five consecutive conference games, could have the dubious distinction of wrapping up no less than a title tie for John Kenney and his Winona High Hawks.

The situation is this: Winona is riding the conference crest with an 8-0 record; Rochester is out of the title chase at 5-3; a win for the Hawks Friday night assures them of no less than a tie for the championship — their first in history.

And it is for those reasons that Engelhart anticipates a tighter contest than the 83-60 decision won by Winona earlier.

"All the pressure is on Winona," speaks the JM major-domo. "All we're doing is playing it out to March 5. We can't do anything in the conference, but we have the tournament to consider. I'm certainly not predicting a victory over Winona, but I am looking for a better game.

We're in much the same position that Winona was last year. We'd like to win."

Engelhart points out that his team met the "toughies" early and then fattened up on the also-rans.

"But we needed a stretch like the one we've had to build the kids' confidence," he assessed.

Will the fact that the game is being played at John Marshall's high school gymnasium be a factor?

"I'm sure we play better at home," he said. "We like to think it is going to make a difference."

The Hawks hope it doesn't. They will be playing for a prize — a big prize — a share of the championship.

"Yes," summed up Kenney, "there is no question. We need this one."

Conference Finishes Ahead for Area Teams

Cotter-Pacelli: Battle of Also-Rans

In year's past it would have been a battle of the titans with implications shaking the entire Catholic basketball population of Minnesota.

This year, it's a battle of also-rans.

"But I think we're still both respectable," quipped Don Carlson, coach of the Austin Shamrocks.

Pacelli will invade Winona Friday night to do hard-court battle with Cotter at St. Stan's gymnasium at 8 p.m.

Last year, Pacelli won the state title, beating Cotter in the finals. This year, neither team is ranked in the top 10 of the state and neither is even expected to make it to the state tournament.

But that doesn't mean this isn't an important game for both squads.

It will be a season-ender for both the Shamrocks and Ramblers, their last chance to get everything working right in an attempt to upset the odds-makers when tournaments roll around.

In an earlier contest, Austin took a 75-62 decision from Cotter in Austin, building most of that final margin in the final quarter.

"They (Cotter) were without their big boy (6-6 Mike Twomey) in that game and it made a lot of difference," said Carlson. "We handled the board pretty well that night."

Despite losing three of its five games since that contest, Carlson feels his team has made "considerable improvement."

"I think we're coming around to the point where we're a pretty good five-man ball club offensively," he said, stressing the word "offensively."

"But I'm not happy with our defense at all. We've been giving away too many points this year," he continued. "I don't know what our defensive average is, but it's higher than our offensive average."

Carlson isn't positive who will make up the starting lineup Friday night, but Randy Heise and Tom Ball will make up two cogs of the machine. Ball is hitting 17 points-per-game and Heise 16 to rank as the Shamrocks' leading scorers.

The other three spots are up for grabs, though as Carlson said, "As far as starters are concerned, they are pretty well determined through the course of the week. We've got a scrimmage and a practice before the game and we'll decide then."

But the eyes of the state won't be focused on St. Stan's gym Friday night, as they would have been in year's past. It will be just another ball game with both teams trying to regain a little lustre that has been rubbed off over the rocky season.

LLOYD LUKE
Sees Record Ahead

Root River Is Lone Loop With Hectic Race

By BOB JUNGHANS
Daily News Sports Writer

For most practical purposes, it's all over but the shouting as area high school basketball teams take the last few, swift steps toward the end of the 1965-66 basketball season.

Lima Sacred Heart was the first team to end its season Tuesday night, and the Redmen will be followed by 10 more teams Friday night. Among the group concluding their seasons are such notables as Chatfield, Wykoff, Arkansas and Fairchild.

All but two conference titles have already been wrapped up and one of the final pair should be tucked safely into the trophy case of Hayfield Friday night with what looks like comparatively easy game.

Hayfield, which has stumbled only once in the Wasioja, must take the measure of fourth place Claremont on the latter's small, home floor.

KENYON (Hawatha-Valley), Preston (Maple Leaf), Wabasha (Centennial), Bangor (Coulee), Eleva-Strum (Dairyland), Alma (West Central) and Onalaska Luther (Bi-State) have already assured themselves of the 1965-66 championships.

Only the Root River Conference is still up in the air and it took a shocking upset by last place Peterson over previously unbeaten Houston Tuesday night to shake up the standings.

Caledonia downed Rushford Tuesday night to move into second place, one game behind the Hurricanes. Both teams play second-division foes Friday night, but a week from Friday, Feb. 25, they clash headon for the title.

The best this weekend's cage action will afford is battles for first-division spots in several conferences.

THE MAPLE LEAF'S run-nerup spot could wind up in a three-way tie as the circuit ends its season Friday night. Harmony, currently in second, plays Preston and if the Cardinals fall, both Chatfield and Wykoff could gain a share of second.

In the Coulee Conference, Holmen travels to Trempealeau in a scrap for third place and possibly a share of second if Onalaska stumbles. The Coulee has one more round following Friday's games.

Osseo and Alma Center settle a first-division quarrel at Osseo in the Dairyland, while Rollingstone Holy Trinity tries to lock up second place with a victory at home against Caledonia Loretto in the Bi-State. A victory for Loretto would give the Bluejays half of that runnerup spot.

BUT THOUGH the season has just about echoed its last ear-splitting roar with the few remaining games used primarily to polish the machinery, a new season starts in the next week or two.

The tournament trail, where everyone gets a clean bill of health and one mis-step means the end of a long road that started back in the middle of November, gets in its first kicks next Wednesday and by March 1 firing will be on all fronts.

ROCHESTER CHOICE IN DISTRICT THREE

Harmony Picked to Repeat

Card Matmen To Dominate District 1?

Harmony, surprise champion of the Southeastern Minnesota wrestling conference, is favored to repeat as District One champion, while Kasson-Mantorville will have its hands full in defending its District Three title when the two tournaments are held this weekend.

The Ko-Mets shared the Hla-watha Valley Conference title with Lake City this past season, but the Tigers aren't expected to be K-M's toughest competition in the district tournament which it hosts Friday and Saturday.

ROCHESTER, ranked third in the state, is the top-heavy favorite in District Three with the HV co-champs, St. Charles and Winona expected to battle for the runnerup spot.

Kasson-Mantorville finished 10th in the state last year and has such talented wrestlers back as Joe Aarsvold at 103, Mark Hoehn at 120 and Larry Olson at 133. Hoehn was the regional champion last year and the others runnersup in the district in their weight divisions.

But Rochester has a pair of 1965 state entrants back in 103-pound Rick Wellner and 127-pounder Marv Nord and a well balanced team to go with them. Bill Moeller, 120, Gus Barbes, 154, and Larry Behnken, 165, are strong titlist possibilities for the Rockets.

THE FIRST round of the tournament will be held Friday beginning at 6:30 p.m. The quarterfinals are set for Saturday at 1:30 p.m., followed by the consolation at 6:30 p.m. and the championship round at 8 p.m.

The top three wrestlers will advance to the Region One tournament in Rochester the following weekend.

In District One, Harmony is the favorite after topping favored Le Roy-Ostrander in the conference meet last week.

THE CARDINALS, defending champions, will have the likes of Gerri Matson, John Engle, Ken Vagts, Jim Scraback and Al Gaul to try and repeat as team titlist in the Saturday meet at Caledonia.

Preston, a surprise contender in the conference meet, gains the nod as the second choice with Dennis Rehm, Garry Burreson, Dennis Dornik and Bill Mangan as its top prospects for individual titles.

But outstanding wrestler of the meet title will probably go to Chatfield's Dale Richter, a fourth place finisher in the state at 127 last year. He is the only state entrant from last year returning for the tournament his year.

The tournament will begin at 12:30 p.m. with the first round. The consolation finals are slated for 7 p.m. with the championships to be decided at 8:15 p.m.

Heilman Wins Decision Over Doug MacLeod

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP) — Andy Heilman of Los Angeles won a 10-round pro boxing decision over Doug MacLeod in a fight that saw no knockdowns Wednesday night.

The cards of the two judges and referee were 99-94, 100-96 and 100-92 for Heilman, a Fargo, N.D., native who was 1961 Upper Midwest Golden Gloves champion. Heilman weighed 156½, MacLeod 152½.

In preliminary events:
Ron Marsh, Minneapolis, knocked out Milton Mandley, Chicago, in the fourth round of their scheduled six-round bout.

Al Jones, Nashville, decisively beat Ed Hurley, Minneapolis, in six rounds.

Duane Horsman, Chatfield, knocked out Willie Johnson, Chicago, in the first round of their five-round event.

Mickey Davitt, Rochester, outpointed Jesse Greene, Duluth, in four rounds.

Ray Christian, Winnipeg, Man., won a third-round TKO over Ken Harvey of Chicago.

Alma Continues to Lead 'Little Ten'

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Madison East remained on top of the heap today in The Associated Press weekly "Big Ten" rankings of Wisconsin high school basketball teams.

Alma again led the standings in the "Little Ten," the rankings for the state's smaller schools.

East (16-0) received 161 points in the balloting by Wisconsin sports writers after surviving a major test against a tough Racine Horlick team.

The Madison power's three closest pursuers remained Green Bay West (15-0) 154 points, Milwaukee Lincoln (14-1), 143 points and Monona Grove (15-1) 113 points.

Points are awarded on the basis of 10 for each first place vote, 9 for each second place vote, etc.

Claridge: 'Hope I Can Make Grade'

LINCOLN, Neb., Feb. 17 — "I only hope I can make the grade," said quarterback Dennis Claridge after learning that he would finally desert the sidelines for a crack at a starting job in the National Football League.

Claridge, the third-string quarterback for the Green Bay Packers the past two seasons, was picked by the new Atlanta entry Wednesday in the NFL grab bag.

Claridge said he was not surprised that he was made available.

"It was in the back of my mind," he said. "I did not play much for the Packers. You can't blame Coach Vince Lombardi for sticking with the guys who helped win the championship."

"Atlanta opens up a new door for me," Claridge said. "My career in pro football will depend on what I can make of this opportunity."

Claridge said the "toughest part of making the change will be moving from all the wonderful friends I've made at Green Bay. It was a wonderful place to be located, even if I didn't play much."

In his two seasons, Claridge saw only one minute of regular season play.

Dan Grimm, another Packer picked up by Atlanta, said he "couldn't feel good or bad about the news."

"There's no way of knowing when you may be traded in this business," he said. "I think it will be an interesting experience in Atlanta. I like Norb Hecker and think he can do a fine job there. I just hope he can build a club that will play some good games."

Grimm was a starter in the first half of the 1965 season but gave way to Jerry Kramer and Fuzzy Thurston as Lombardi went back to veterans to shake a Packer offensive slump that seemed partially caused by lackluster blocking up front.

The Packers also lost Junior Coffey, a promising halfback who stood out as a member of the special teams in his rookie season last year.

IN BIG NINE MEET

Relay Event Record Aim Of Tankers

Rochester and Austin have a corner on the record market in Big Nine swimming.

Rocket swimmers hold eight records and Austin the other two, but Lloyd Luke of Winona is bound and determined to notch one for Winona this weekend and at the same time prepare his boys for a shot at a state record.

The preparation will come this weekend in the Big Nine Conference meet at Austin where Rochester, Austin and Mankato, along with the Hawks, will take to the water.

The record Winona is shooting for is the 400-yard freestyle relay mark, a new event in the state this year.

Dennis Sievers, Steve Kowalsky, Larry Anderson and Tim Heise have combined for a time of 3:30.2 in the event, the best in the state this year. And this quartet won't swim in their normal individual events in an effort to set the record and be ready for the state tournament.

"Keeping our boys out will probably mean the difference between second and third place," said Luke. "We'll be giving up about 17 points, but we need the experience for the state meet."

All four of the relay team members will swim in one event, however. Sievers will compete in the individual medley, Kowalsky in the 200 freestyle, Anderson in the 100 freestyle and Heise in the 50 freestyle.

"I guess you would have to say these are our possibilities for first place," said Luke.

Rochester, of course, is the overwhelming favorite.

In addition to the record Winona is shooting for, four other standards appear in danger. Terry Lee of Austin is a threat in the individual medley and the 400-yard freestyle. Rochester's Tom Hodgson also might break the freestyle mark.

The Rochester medley relay crew and Mike Fisher of the Rockets in the breaststroke are also record possibilities.

Fisher holds the current breaststroke record and Lee is the IM record holder.

The diving preliminaries will get under way at 4 p.m. Friday with the first swimming event set for 6:30 p.m. Points will be awarded on a 7-5-4-3-2-1 basis for individual events and 14-10-8-6-4-2 for the relays.

Winona State's swimming team also will be in competition this weekend with two road meets that will wrap up their regular season. Friday night the Warriors are at Michigan Tech and Saturday they travel to Oshkosh.

Winona State's wrestling team has its only meet of the week tonight at Memorial Hall against St. Thomas. The match will begin at 7:30 p.m. And the Winona High wrestling team gets its first tournament test Friday and Saturday nights at Kasson-Mantorville in the District Three tournament.

Cowboys, Vikes Envy Atlantans

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys and Minnesota Vikings agree that the newly stocked Atlanta Falcons fared better than they did as National Football League expansion franchises in 1960 and 1961.

"I would like to have had that group when we started," said Tex Schramm, general manager of the Cowboys, who finished their first season in 1960 with an 0-11-1 record.

"They are better off than we were," said John Thompson, assistant general manager of the Vikings, whose first team in 1961 wound up with a 3-11 mark.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle and the other NFL owners went along with the thinking of the Cowboys and the Vikings.

"I feel, with the stocking program and the rookies Atlanta has signed, they are in much better position than either Dallas or Minnesota at the start," said Rozelle.

Vince Lombardi, coach and general manager of the champion Green Bay Packers put it this way:

"They are very well stocked, far better than anyone thought they would be at the time."

The Falcons were stocked Wednesday with 42 experienced players from NFL rosters. They averaged 26.2 years old and about 3 1/2 years of experience. The Falcons also have 22 rookies and a large number of free agents, making a total of 94 players.

"I am very pleased," said Coach Norb Hecker of Atlanta. "We have a fine group of defensive backs and defensive linemen."

"The big surprise to me were Dennis Clardige of Green Bay, Alex Hawkins of Baltimore, Larry Benz and Bobby Franklin of Cleveland and Maury Youmans of Dallas."

"As of now, Clardige is my quarterback. I think he is a great prospect."

The league never has announced any financial figures on the Atlanta franchise, but it is reported owner Rankin Smith put up $8.5 million to get the team.

It is understood that $50,000 goes into the league treasury as a franchise fee, and the rest is divided among the other 14 clubs over a period of years.

OKLAHOMA CITY ALSO

Loyola Pushes Closer to Meet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Chicago Loyola and Oklahoma City, two of the nation's top independents, have moved closer to their objective of landing a bid to next month's NCAA tournament that determines the national collegiate basketball champion.

The Loyola Ramblers, fourth-ranked nationally in this week's Associated Press poll, invaded Dayton, Ohio, Wednesday night and scored an impressive 77-72 victory over the Dayton Flyers, another leading independent. It was Loyola's 19th victory against two defeats.

The Oklahoma City Chiefs also went impressively on the road. They came from 12 points back to defeat West Texas 87-80 at Canyon, Tex. It was the Chiefs' 10th in a row, their 14th victory in their last 15 games and upped their season record to 20-3.

Penn State, Virginia Tech and Temple similarly kept alive their hopes for a postseason tournament bid.

Penn State 14-4, rolled over West Virginia 108-81 for its 25th straight home - court victory. Virginia Tech, 17-4, downed The Citadel on the road 67-61. Temple, 18-5, crushed Fordham 91-74 in the opener of a doubleheader at the Palestra in Philadelphia. Villanova routed St. Bonaventure 93-61 in the second game behind Bill Melchioni's 44 points, his career high for one game.

Chicago Loyola, the only team in the AP Top Ten to play Wednesday, weathered a furious late rally by Dayton. A sell-out crowd of 5,880 cheered as the Flyers, behind by 12 points at 68-56, cut the deficit to one point at 73-72 in the last minute. The Ramblers held on as Jim Coleman converted twice from the foul line and Doug Wardlaw scored a two-pointer at the final buzzer.

Kauphusman Shoots 639 Loop Topper

A 639 series by Jim Kauphusman in the Hal-Rod Commercial League Wednesday night paced league bowling competitors.

Kauphusman shot his total for McNally Builders. Winona Rug Cleaning swept team honors with 1,031-2,873 to keep its first-place ambitions alive. Lyle Jacobson recorded 235 for Sam's Direct Service.

THE TOP WOMEN'S series came from June Dalleska in the Sunsets League at Westgate. She registered 218-548 to pace Merf's Market to a 2,646 tie with Mankato Bar. Sunbeam Sweets picked up 920.

Dianne Hardtke belted 522, Pat Ellinghuysen 517, Betty Schultz 507 and Les Krage a 502. Jeanette Burfield picked up the 5-8-10. Joyce Hengel the 6-7-10 and Phyllis Thurlay the 3-7-10.

Bud Hansen of Bub's led his team to 2,831 with 611 in the Hal-Rod Retail League. Teammate Oscar Severson ripped 216, one pin short of the league-topping 217 total by Jerry Turner of Sportsman's Tap. Fenske Body Shop socked 977.

In the Westgate Mixers circuit, Sue Czaplowski slammed 538 errorless for Deluxe Beauty Shop. Elaine Wild's 194 led Skelly Gals to 911. Marigold Dairies tipped 2,575.

WESTGATE BOWL: Men's — Fred Nihart smashed 222-568 for Freddy's Bar, Winona. Cleaners 967 and Baab's Standard 2,046. Tony Wiewerski picked up the 6-7.

Coffee — Pattie Peterson of Team Six led the group to 643-1,268 with her 156-307 two-game set.

HAL-ROD LANES: Two-Lite — Hotel Winona tipped 960 behind 305 from Kay Nogosek. Grace Brokaw registered 169 for Williams Annex and Fountain Cations 519.

Benilde Holds No. 1 Spot

St. Louis Park Benilde, with a resounding victory over Cotter last week, remained the unanimous No. 1 choice as the top Catholic High School basketball team in Minnesota this season.

Saint Cloud Cathedral remained second. The biggest advance as made by Mankato Loyola which jumped to fifth, while Rochester Lourdes moved up one spot to eighth.

For the second straight week, Cotter was not ranked.

The Top Ten: 1. Benilde, 2. St. Cloud Cathedral, 3. De La Salle, 4. St. John's Prep, 5. Mankato Loyola, 6. St. Thomas, 7. Creighton, 8. Rochester Lourdes, 9. Waverly St. Mary's, 10. East Grand Forks Sacred Heart.

Defense Wins Point, Loses Still Another

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The defense has won a point and lost another in Wisconsin's annual struggle against the Braves and the National League.

Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roll ruled Wednesday that Atty. Gen. E. W. Larson, Jr. should be permitted to question by the defense motion that the issues to be argued be narrowed before the case goes to trial.

These are the prime questions posed by the '66 Twins pitching staff which reports to spring training camp at Orlando, Fla., Monday.

"I don't see anything wrong with our pitching staff; it's as strong as any in the American League," says Manager Sam Mele.

Mele is confident that Pascual (9-3) will be as competent as ever, that Grant is capable of being a big winner again and that Boswell isn't likely to be sidelined by mononucleosis like he was last year.

"We've got six very capable starters in Pascual, Grant, Jim Kaat, Boswell, Jim Merritt and Jim Ferry," Mele said. "And we've got some good long relief pitchers in that group, depending on who doesn't make the starting rotation, Dick Sigman

Benilde Holds No. 1 Spot

St. Louis Park Benilde, with a resounding victory over Cotter last week, remained the unanimous No. 1 choice as the top Catholic High School basketball team in Minnesota this season.

FRIDAY
LOCAL SCHOOLS
Austin Pacelli vs. Cotter, St. Stan's, 8 p.m.

WISCONSIN STATE HIGH SCHOOL COACHES ASSOCIATION
Rochester is first and Austin and Winona are tied for sixth.

At Weston, just outside of Reedsburg, grapplers from Arcadia, Independence, Whitehall, Cochrane-Fountain City, Blair, Melrose-Mindoro and West Salem will compete in a bid to go to the state tournament the following weekend in Madison.

INDEPENDENCE has six grapplers in the sectional, including West Salem regional champion Gerri Olson at 103 and Jim Halama at 133. Arcadia, however, appears to have the best chance to bring a team title home to the area.

The Raiders won the West Salem regional, advancing five wrestlers, including class champs Lina Sobotta, 120, Ray Waleczko, 138, and Duane Dorn, 180.

Cochrane - Fountain City has three grapplers entered including 145-pound kingly Fred Neitzel. West Salem, Melrose-Mindoro and Blair will each have a division champion representing them. Steve Puente of West Salem won the regional 95-pound title, Ray Harwick of Melrose-Mindoro the 154-pound crown and Steve Kittelson of Blair the 165-pound title.

Richard Center is the favorite for the team title with eight wrestlers competing. Mineral Point has seven entrants in the tournament and Tomah and Iowa-Grant, along with Independence, six each.

THREE WRESTLERS from Durand and one from Mondovi are entered in the Chetek sectional. Bob Kees, 121, Stan Smith, 133, and Brad Dale, heavyweight, are the Durand entrants. Dick Kilde, a 165-pounder, represents Mondovi.

A third sectional tournament at Owen-Withee has two more area matmen entered. Both are from Osseo. Carrying the Chetek banner will be Marv McCune, 154, and David Hammer, 165.

All sectionals open with the first round Friday evening and continue through until the champions have been decided on Saturday.

ARCADIA, Wis. (Special) — The first of eight Arcadia men's teams will bowl in the 64th annual Wisconsin State Bowling Association tournament at Wagner's Lanes in Eau Claire this weekend.

The Club 93 team sponsored by Andy Baeker's club will participate in the team event on Saturday during the 1:45 p.m. shift. Sunday at 5 p.m., team members are scheduled to bowl doubles and singles. Team members consist of Gile Herick, Jerome Pierzynski, Franklin Sobotta, Richard Kamla, Richard Fredrickson and Gerald Bagniewski.

This year's tournament, which began on Jan. 29 and runs through May 15, has been billed as the world's largest state and association event. A total of 210 cities are represented in 1,925 five-man teams, 7,588 individuals, 3,806 two-man teams and 5,266 all event entries. This year's prize fund towers over the $65,911 mark.

Six other Arcadia bowling teams—Splinters, Trempealeau Electric, Riverview Lanes, W.O.W. (Woodmen of the World), Arcadia Ready Mix and Korpal's Bar are scheduled to compete on the weekend of March 19-20 and Al Sylla's Bar on April 2-3.

One half of the 16 teams in the city association will be entered in the tournament. That is considered a good representation. Durand has nine teams entered, Mondovi and Whitehall seven each, Blair and Galesville two each and Independence one.
